Three Notes Brand Move As 'Illegal'

Four-Power Status Violated, Protest To Soviet Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France protested to the Soviet Union today that the Communist barricade in Berlin is "illegal." They declared they expect the Soviet government to "put an end to these illegal measures."

Identical notes were delivered to the Soviet Foreign Office by embassies of the three Western powers in Moscow this morning and then were made public in Paris, London and Washington.

The Western powers complained that the closing of the border "is a flagrant, and particularly serious, violation" of the four-power status of Berlin. They rejected the Red argument that East Berlin is part of the territory of East Germany.

"Moreover, the United States government cannot admit the right of the East German authorities to authorize their armed forces to enter the Soviet sector of Berlin," the U.S. note said.

The other Western notes used the same language except that the British note, for instance, said "Her Majesty's government cannot admit" etc.

The wording of the text was restrained and free of any threat by the West or any phrasing designed to express anger or indignation. The note was drafted jointly by representatives of the three Western powers and apparently reflected a decision on their part to handle the Berlin situation at this point with a gentle touch.

The action paragraph of the note, which State Department officials said was designed as a "strong" call for removal of the Communist barricades, said:

"The United States government solemnly protests against the measures referred to above, for which it holds the Soviet government responsible. The United States government expects the Soviet government to put an end to these illegal measures. This unilateral infringement of the quadripartite status of Berlin can only increase existing tensions and dangers."

State Department press officer Lincoln White was asked why the U.S. government "expects" the U.S.S.R. to lift a barrier which officials have been saying privately will undoubtedly remain in force for a long time.

White said the U.S. government's expectation was based on the "solemn obligation" of the Soviet Union to treat Berlin as a city under four-power control with free travel guaranteed within its borders.

East German authorities imposed the travel ban on the border Sunday night. Shortly before the action was taken, the Communist

Senator Asks For Reprisals Against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., today urged economic reprisals against the Russians and East Germany for the Communist crackdown on the flow of refugees from East Germany.

Fulbright, who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he has urged Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other administration officials to seek agreement with U.S. Allies for concerted action in this field.

It is his understanding, Fulbright said, that although Allied representatives had agreed that countermeasures would be taken, there has been no decision on a specific course to follow.

A cutoff of West German purchases of oil from the Soviet Union was cited by the Arkansas senator as one action that might have telling effect.

"The Russians have spent a lot of money building pipelines through East Germany," he said. "If the West Germans said to them 'We won't buy your oil anymore,' I think we might see some more willingness to negotiate over Berlin than is apparent now."

Y. & O. Rd. Bar Razed

$20,000 Fire Destroys Tavern

Only ashes, charred timbers and a few twisted metal objects remained at the site of the former Bar-X Tavern, shown here going up in flames in a $20,000 blaze that hit the frame structure on the Y. & O. Rd. early today.

Over 40 firemen from two departments answered the alarm about 2:30 a. m. after a passing Chester truck driver saw flames shooting through the roof of the bar about 300 feet south of the Route 30 intersection with the Y. & O. Rd.

The West Point department sent two trucks and 25 men and then called the Glenmoor department, which provided two trucks with 15 men, but the fire had too much of a start. However, two house trailers parked in the vicinity were saved.

Asst. Fire Chief Edwin Bergman of the West Point department said that Kenneth Alloway of Chester, driver for the T. & K. Roofing Co., driving north, came around the turn and saw the flames.

He drove down the Y. & O. Rd. and aroused Claude Williams, owner, who lives just south of the tavern, and firemen were called.

A wrecker was called to move the house trailer occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Weaver, which was parked near the tavern. Firemen wet down another house trailer occupied by Richard (Dick) Roach to keep it from being scorched.

Firemen remained at the scene until about 5 a. m. The one-story building covered with insulation siding burned to the ground and all the contents were lost.

Williams said he didn't know what caused the fire and that everything was normal when he went to bed. He was unable to estimate the amount of his loss but said he has some insurance. Chief Bergman reported.

Liverpool Township, West, volunteer firemen from LaCroft sent a truck to the Glenmoor station on standby.

House Urged To Reverse, OK Aid Loans

President Points Out 'Crucial Hour' In Nation's History

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy urged the House today to reverse itself and approve long-term authorization of foreign aid loans "in this crucial hour of the nation's history."

Kennedy said Democrats had helped former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's foreign aid program, and "it is urgent that this bipartisan principle be maintained."

A coalition of House Republicans and conservative Democrats Wednesday struck at the heart of Kennedy's foreign aid program—and dealt him a severe rebuff—by slashing the long-range development loan feature from the house bill.

Helping to make the day a gloomy one for the White House, the Senate whittled more than $1 billion from the over-all program.

The House setback was tentative. The 197-183 vote to scuttle the loan plan was on a teller count without a record vote. Administration forces have at least two chances to recoup:

1. The scuttling amendment may still go to a roll call vote in the House where 55 members were unaccounted for in Wednesday's head count.

2. The bill eventually will go to conference with a Senate version more in tune with Kennedy's original plan for power to lend

Jail Escapees Found In Auto Stolen Here

Two escapees from a West Virginia jail were apprehended in Philippi, W. Va., Wednesday in a car stolen here Monday night or early Tuesday, police were advised.

West Virginia State Police notified local officers the 1954 Lincoln sedan owned by Arb Motors of Pennsylvania Ave. was in operating condition when found.

Willie Frazier, 24, and Cecil Woodring, 19, who escaped from the Wirt County Jail at Elizabeth, were captured in the car. They will be returned to the jail where they were being held on breaking and entering charges, officers were told.

In Red Germany

Huge Recruiting Drive Launched

BERLIN (AP)—East German Communist leaders launched a gigantic military recruiting drive today. They called on the 1.7 million members of their youth organization to volunteer for the army.

The effort to swell the ranks of the troops—now estimated by Western authorities to number 110,000—came as the Western Allies protested to the Soviet Union against the Red barricades that bar refugees and other East Germans from West Berlin.

The United States, Britain and France charged that Communist restrictions in Berlin were completely illegal and violate the city's special four-power status. They held the Soviet Union responsible for East Germany's sealing of the sector border and demanded "an end to these illegal measures."

The notes, described as identical, took direct issue with the East German contention that the new barricades in Berlin mark an international boundary.

The sharp Western reaction was illustrated by an acid paragraph in France's protest:

"The French government has never agreed that any limitations can be imposed on the liberty of movement within the city. The line of demarcation between the Soviet sector and the Western sectors of Berlin is not a state frontier. The French government considers as illegal the measures which the East German authorities have just taken."

All members of the Red youth organization were called to special meetings Friday at dawn in schools, factories and collective farms to hear the appeal to volunteer. The orders were issued by Horst Schumann, 37, first secretary of the youth organization.

The young people were told that Sunday's ban on the flight of refugees to West Berlin was "a victory for peace and socialism." The appeal said "panic and confusion reign among our enemies," and "now it is necessary to secure our success and win new victories over the warmongers."

The Communist youth daily Junge Welt—Young World—carried the appeal in headlines: "The Fatherland calls! Protect the Socialist Republic!"

The East German Communist regime so far has not required

Remains In Secret Hideout

Noted Russian Scientist Takes Asylum In Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — A prize-winning Soviet chemist, Mikhail A. Klotchko, remained in a secret hideout today after slipping away from a party of visiting Soviet scientists and taking political asylum in Canada.

Klotchko, 59, had been awarded the Stalin Prize and Order of Lenin, indicating he stood well in Soviet scientific circles. He is a specialist in inorganic chemistry. In Moscow the Soviet Foreign Ministry declined comment on the defection. Spokesmen at the Soviet Academy of Science and the Soviet Academy of Organic Chemistry claimed they had never heard of Klotchko.

Commissioner C. W. Harvison of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who took Klotchko under his protection, described him as a chemist of "considerable world importance."

Harvison said Wednesday night he preferred to let Klotchko tell his own story of what motivated his defection but that the Russian wanted a good night's sleep before deciding whether to meet newsmen.

Klotchko was in a group of Soviet scientists that came to Canada early in August for the 18th International Congress on Theoretical and Applied Chemistry in Montreal and stayed on to do some sightseeing.

Klotchko is a widower with no family in the Soviet Union.

Chester Acts On Stiffening Of Trash Law

Council Also Starts Bill For One-Way Traffic On 3 Streets

Tighter regulations governing the disposal of trash and garbage in Chester and establishment of one-way traffic on three steeply graded streets were tentatively approved by Council Wednesday night.

Council passed on first reading legislation concerning hauling of trash and garbage and illegal dumping and burning, providing a fine of from $5 to $25.

The new regulations provide that only the private hauler is authorized to collect trash and garbage within the city. The present contractor is J. W. Cornell.

The ordinance makes illegal the hazardous accumulation of trash or garbage, delivering refuse to private property, leaving garbage in uncovered containers or throwing rubbish or trash on the premises, street or alley.

The ordinance also forbids burning of garbage or trash without the permission of the police chief or fire chief.

Council ordered the legislator prepared recently in response to complaints which ranged from dumping trash on the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. right-of-way to unauthorized hauling of trash by out-of-town truckers.

Council also approved initial reading of an ordinance establishing northbound traffic only on 1st St. between Indiana and Pennsylvania Aves. and 2nd St. between Montana Ave. to Church Alley.

Picketing Continues At Palestine Plant

EAST PALESTINE — Picketing continued for the third day at the Kenmar Manufacturing Co. plant where workers went on strike Tuesday after failure to reach agreement with the firm on a new contract.

No new talks have been scheduled, but officials were awaiting notice from the Federal Mediation Service concerning possible mediation in the walkout. The firm has proposed a wage cut to help meet close competition, but the United Construction Workers local rejected it.

Schools Open Sept. 6

1,442 Enrollment Seen At Midland

Enrollment in Midland schools is expected to be 1,442 — about the same as last year — when classes begin with a full schedule Sept. 6, Supt. Ralph H. Jewell announced.

On Tuesday, Sept. 5, all professional employees will convene at 8:30 a. m. in the Music Forum of the High School to receive instructions.

DURING the morning the Board of Education will participate in a panel discussion regarding educational problems.

In the afternoon the teachers will meet with their principals for brief sessions and then prepare their individual rooms to receive the pupils for instruction the next day.

Teachers will report at 8:20 a. m. and doors are open for pupils at 8:30. The tardy bell is at 8:40, for all schools.

Dismissal for noon recess is 12:06 for the high school, and 11:40 for the three elementary schools. Doors open for pupils after lunch at 1 p. m. at the high school, 12:55 for 1st and 7th St. Schools and 12:35 for 4th St. Dismissal is 3:44 p. m. for the high school and 3:45 for the elementary schools.

REGISTRATION of kindergarten pupils will take place Wednesday, Aug. 30 and kindergarten teachers and supervisors will be present at 1st and 7th St. buildings to greet parents. Children who will be 5 years by Dec. 1 are eligible to attend.

Children who have not attended kindergarten and will attend school for the first time this year must be 6 years by Dec. 1. These children, with any new pupils transferring to Midland schools, will register at their respective schools on the first day.

A few changes in the personnel were made during the summer. Charles Henderson, instrumental music; Donald Magas, science; Mrs. Dorothea Mueller, math, and Mrs. Ida Walton, girl's physical education, have resigned.

NEW TEACHERS include Dominic DiVecchio, instrumental music; Mrs. Sarah Howarth, girls physical education; Mrs. Dawn Inabnet, science; Robert Lewis, math; Charles Mersheimer, math and science, and Miss Monica Shone, English.

Miss Margaret Hogan is supervisor of elementary schools, and William A. Walters, high school principal.

All school buildings were thoroughly "house-cleaned" during the summer and many minor repairs have been completed.

Last year the board spent about $35,000 to remodel the 1st and 4th St. Schools to conform to the mandate of the Department of Labor and Industry to insure the safety of children.

ALL CLASSROOMS, which were not painted during the summer have had their walls washed, and each room has had all its furniture and equipment cleaned and washed.

The maintenance crew has undertaken the project of replacing the plumbing and fixtures in some of the old buildings.

A portion of the high school building was attacked by termites. The damaged woodwork and frames have been replaced. The heating systems in all the buildings have been inspected and prepared for the winter months.

MAJOR physical improvements include new concrete front steps and landscaping of grounds at 1st St. School; a number of rooms and all corridors repainted and teachers' cupboards and bulletin boards installed at 4th St. School; and replaced retaining wall, re-coated roof, replastering and repainting corridors at 7th St. School.

At the high school, the roof has been repaired and recoated, new rear exit doors installed, gym floor refinished, several concrete blocks replaced in the front sidewalk and some rooms equipped with new blinds.

The exterior of the library has been repainted. At the athletic field, bleachers have been repainted, equipment building and concession stand were repaired, an additional ticket booth was erected and a new tractor and mower were purchased.

MIDLAND schools have been participating in the educational program conducted by television station WQED. Each school has one or more receiving sets and to improve reception, pre-amplifiers have been installed.

French will be restored to the high school curriculum this year. For many years, Midland students have not elected French as a foreign language subject but this fall a beginning class will be started with Mrs. Mary Stauffer teacher.

No major changes have been planned in the curriculum for this year. Gradual changes have been made in recent years to meet the needs of Midland pupils, Jewell said.

Buildup

not enough volunteers. Nurses will be recalled from the ready reserve mobilization reinforcement pool as needed.

9. The ready reserve obligations and enlistments of personnel in reserve units and the ready reserve mobilization pool which would otherwise end between Oct. 1 and next June 30 will be extended by one year.

10. Enlistments for six months of training under the Reserve Forces Act will be restricted, beginning Sept. 1 and extending through December, to young men under 20 years of age. No Reserve Forces Act personnel will be accepted for active duty for training during this period.

11. The Active duty of Reserve Forces Act personnel now in training will not be individually extended but they will be sent back into the ready reserve units unless they choose to enlist in the regular Army.

A Wellsville motorist was fined this morning in Municipal Court for driving with only one license plate, but received a suspended fine on an illegal registration charge.

Reversal Here: Traffic Signal Hits Parked Car
A parked car damaged by a traffic signal? It happened Wednesday afternoon at Broadway and St. Clair Aves., police reported.

Patrolman William Devan, who witnessed the mishap, said the light had been lowered to permit work by City Electrician Fred Kane and his assistant, George Fone.

Charles R. Harris, 44, of Lisbon halted his truck because of the work. When he was given permission to proceed, his rear bumper snagged a wire, breaking it and allowing the light to swing against the left door of a parked 1959 sedan owned by Dan Vanich of Industry R. D. 1.

Minor damage was caused in a crash of cars operated by Fred Shaw, 64, of 1215 Fairmont St. and John L. Vanpelt, 54, of Colliers.

Patrolman C. E. (Bill) Tice spotted the crash at 7:25 p. m. yesterday at Dresden Ave. and E. 6th St. while on foot patrol in the Diamond.

53 Attend Steak Fry Of County Realtors
LISBON — Fifty-three persons attended the Columbiana County Board of Realtors annual steak fry Wednesday at the Valley Golf Club, southwest of Columbiana.

Golf was the diversion in the afternoon, followed by the dinner and meeting.

Al Reinman, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, spoke on the state convention in Dayton in September.

Sixteen members and guests of the East Liverpool Board of Realtors and 21 of the Columbiana County board attended.

$8.8 billion at no or low interest to underdeveloped countries over the next five years.

In the Kennedy statement released by the White House, the President said authority to make the long-range loans "is essential to making certain that our foreign-aid program is both efficient and effective." This has been the administration position throughout this year's congressional battle over foreign aid.

He added: "When Asia and Africa are poised between economic development and chaos, when Mr. Khrushchev is probing the West for any sign that our resolve is weakening, I cannot believe that the bipartisan support always given this (foreign aid) program is at this crucial moment to be abandoned."

President, Advisers Review Disarm Issue
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called in high advisers today for what was described as a top-level review of disarmament matters.

Arthur H. Dean, one of the listed participants at the late afternoon White House session, plans to leave next Wednesday for Geneva. There, Dean will have what Kennedy has termed a probably "decisive" meeting with the Soviets on a treaty to ban nuclear weapons tests. The two sides have failed to agree during meetings over 2 1/2 years.

Adult Justice For The Youngsters?

Should traffic offenders 17 and younger be given hearings in the same courts as adults?

Concerned about the increase of drivers aged 16 and 17 and the growing problem of such younger violators, the Ohio Assembly has directed the Legislative Service Commission to study the feasibility of having juvenile offenders appear in traffic court instead of before a juvenile judge.

The legislature, along with many law enforcement officers and parents, feels the serious responsibilities of driving and the need for improved traffic safety warrant such a study.

Sgt. E. M. Mallery of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the assignment of 17-year-old offenders to regular traffic court might be justified.

However, he feels that 16-year-old drivers still should be given hearings in Juvenile Court, if only for the fact that a violation would not go on his record, while young and irresponsible, to later effect his character or employment status.

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin is opposed to the proposal, pointing out that Juvenile Court philosophy calls for correction, not just punishment, for offenses. Suspension of licenses is such a corrective means, he said, stating that of the 278 traffic violators in his court in the past 21 months, only three were "repeaters."

Adult courts, he declared, would be only interested in assessing punishment, and this would not help cure the traffic violator problem.

Furthermore, 25 per cent of the traffic violations in juvenile court have been the only indication of other transgressions which must be caught early to prevent juvenile offenders from becoming criminals.

Juvenile Court investigations provide information on the involvement of youths in such other related offenses, where adult courts lack the resources, time and inclination to provide such valuable services.

In Pennsylvania this month a new law went into effect which provides for traffic court hearings for 16- and 17-year-old youths who commit "summary offenses" — such as failure to signal or making an illegal turn.

In cases where arrest is immediate — drunken driving or hit-and-run — the young drivers still will be given hearings in Juvenile Court.

The plan in Pennsylvania emphasizes the adult responsibility of operating a car, at the same time relieving the burden of extra cases in overloaded Juvenile Courts.

The proposal for the change to adult courts was sent to committee in the last General Assembly in Ohio without action. If the new study provides more light on the program, the next legislature should certainly weigh the matter again.

But the lawmakers also should give serious thought to the role the Juvenile Court plays in dealing with youths apart from punishment alone. Boys and girls, 16 and 17, certainly have adult responsibilities when they grasp a steering wheel, but adult justice may not be the best answer to their violations.

'Life You Save ...'

As many as six Columbiana County motorists a day walk sheepishly to the driver examination station desk at Lisbon to take tests for a new license — having forgotten to renew their previous one.

Some probably give themselves a tongue-lashing all the way to the station and lament their stupidity.

However, their forgetfulness has its good side. With the new test goes a review of regulations and a re-emphasized concern for proper driving procedures. Also re-awakened is a respect for the privilege of driving on the public highways.

Motorists should be reminded to check the expiration date on their licenses, but they also should be reminded to drive at all times the way they would if an examiner were in the seat beside them. Driver's licenses and traffic safety go hand in hand.

In one Near East Country they solve the lax driving problem with a simple law—the driver of any car which kills a man is beheaded. As one American commented, "The life you save will be your own!"

Reds Infiltrate West Germany

By Victor Riesel

BONN There are many ways to assault a nation. West Germany—N. S. Khrushchev's prime target for the moment—is under siege from within.

On any night, on this side of the "Curtain," far from the West Berlin frontier, swift fleets of Communist trucks and cars criss-cross the German Republic. Secret printing plants in four states whip out millions of pieces of literature. Communist instructors run clandestine classes in revolutionary doctrine and tactics. Red laboratories spew out special inks, acids and narcotics.

There is, for example, a forgery center in East Berlin. It supplies the "Sovzone's" "West work" apparatus with special identification cards, drivers licenses and counterfeit police seals to be used in impersonating officers of the German, Swiss, Austrian, Italian and Scandinavian gendarmerie.

THIS SHOP also forges passports and special government stamps. Literally, the Russian subversion, espionage and sabotage network is so vast it would take one of our memory feedback computers to keep track of the operation.

The closest we come to such a computer is the Federal Republic's counter-punching expert, Dr. Gerhard Schroeder, federal minister of the interior, who has evidence that Moscow spends more than $125 million a year on just this one operation.

A "cautious estimate," says Dr. Schroeder of Sovzone personnel used by the Russians in this West work, "arrives at the figure of 18,100."

But this is just the beginning. There are at least another 2,000 espionage specialists directing a saturation operation inside the German Federal Republic.

THEY SIFT tens of thousands of reports and dispatch the gist directly to Moscow intelligence analysts.

"According to careful estimates," the interior minister revealed recently, "... some 18,000 agents are permanently active inside the Federal Republic.

This number is not changed by the fact that a yearly average of 2,500 to 2,800 agents have been eliminated during the past few years by the Federal Republic's security organs.

And from Aug. 30, 1960 to December 31, 1960 altogether 2,186 persons were convicted for treason.

Furthermore (during this time) more than 19,000 persons admitted that they received espionage assignments but were not prosecuted due to their voluntary reporting ... or for other reasons."

SOME OF THE POLICE and counter-intelligence dossiers here would make a James Mason-Gregory Peck movie look like Hollywood is devoted to slow motion understatement.

Not so long ago, for example, the government cracked an underground Sovzone propaganda network operating right across all of West Germany.

This apparatus reached from Hamburg to Lower Saxony. Some 50 operatives were arrested. I was told.

The police raided four secret printing shops. They rounded up 10 autos and trucks. Lying around were a hundred thousand pieces of Communist literature and heaps of cash.

The Russians have all this underground work down to a science. In North Rhine-Westphalia, they had, for example, a "rocket-propaganda combat group." Its purpose was to instill fear of American nuclear weapons. Printing shops were in Munich. The distribution apparatus was in still another part of the country.

THERE ARE SABOTEURS, too. Some time ago, German counter-intelligence prevented the bombing of a German Army recruiting office. This operation was traced to Gustav Strauss, then director of sabotage activity of the Sovzone military secret service.

Why such a saturation? Minister of the Interior Schroeder answers with a quote from a former Communist intelligence chief who bolted the Communists. He is Capt. Heim, formerly of the Sovzone Espionage of State Security: "The espionage organizations of the Soviet bloc," Capt. Heim says, "do not have mere intelligence functions. Their aim, rather, is to change the political situation of the German Federal Government in such a manner that the reunification of Germany will become possible in the Communist sense."

Therefore, the actual aim of intelligence initiative in the Federal Republic is the preparation of revolution.

"Accordingly, there is no institution of governmental political, social, cultural and economic life in the Federal Republic which is not the target of systematic espionage and subversion."

OBVIOUSLY the Bonn government already is at war—a non-shooting but still costly war. The most it can spend now on this silent fighting—and still arm for a shooting war—is some $17.5 million compared with the Russians' $125 million. But even at these odds, Bonn does well on this front. Which is good.

If we lose this infighting, there would be no crisis over a free Berlin—there would just be no free Europe.

As for the bearded set, they are in favor of the mail room for a number of reasons.

William Walker, a 26-year-old Washingtonian who described himself as a writer, said: "The mail room is my second home."

He explained: "It's got the cleanest toilet in town—and it's free—and you can get a 10-cent cold coke from the vending machine."

His companion, a sandal-clad New Yorker named Charles Binder, said he was using the premises to try to sell his motor-scooter.

"I've got it parked outside with a 'For Sale' sign on it. The cops chase me off every hour or so but I hope to find a buyer here soon."

Felicia Truebell, a 22-year-old New Yorker, said: "I come here every day—when I get on time—to collect mail and meet friends."

To face the invasion of unwanted guests, American Express has gradually cut down on its services.

Since July 1 clients have had to pay a dollar to leave a forwarding address.

The suggestion box also has been done away with recently. Two years ago the company stopped selling stamps.

Short Of War

Berlin Offers Chance To Check Soviet

IN EUROPE "We will use any ruse, dodge, tricks, cunning, unlawful methods, concealment and veiling of the truth."

The foregoing sentence is written in the Communist party platform first proclaimed in 1919 by Lenin. This has never been withdrawn or revised. When Nikita Khrushchev recently restated the party platform and amended it in many particulars, he left standing the doctrine quoted above.

All communist acts, therefore, must be judged by that blunt formula of deception, whether it be the violation in Berlin this week of the four-power agreement signed in 1949 or of a disarmament "treaty" if one should be signed with the Soviets.

The Allies are building their hopes on a new agreement to be negotiated in the next few months to nail down their rights of access to West Berlin. But the Communist party doctrine indicates that the Soviets would not hesitate to disregard these pledges whenever they decide it is expedient to do so.

Indeed, Premier Khrushchev told the British ambassador only a few days ago, in discussing the existing Allies treaty rights in Berlin granted in 1945 and 1949, that these were "unreal and irrelevant."

This is not surprising, coming as it does from a government that has no regard for morals or for the sanctity of a written pledge but what are the Allies to do about it?

Up to now, the procedure has been to make speeches, carry on conferences between foreign ministers and ambassadors of the West, and discuss privately a series of countermeasures—military, political and economic.

While military preparations are important as a defensive precaution, neither side is likely to make a move in the direction of military action unless the other does—and it would have to be something more than a mere clash on a local basis to bring on anything so catastrophic as a nuclear war.

As for the political arena, this means an attempt through public statements and exchanges of notes to affect favorably the public opinion of the world, particularly in the so-called neutral countries where the Soviet Union has been making an intensive effort to win friends or to stir up trouble that would preoccupy Western forces.

WHAT ELSE can be done? The economic weapons of blockade now are being talked about openly.

Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany has just said that trade agreements between the East and West would have to be "re-examined." There are hints of a trade embargo. This naturally arouses anxiety in business circles, and already in London some authoritative British sources are saying that an economic embargo is not practical and would mean that Western exports would suffer.

But if bombs begin falling on millions of people, there will be suffering, too. Hence the world has to choose now between preventive policies of a drastic nature or a drifting policy that gives to the enemy an impression of irresoluteness and defeatism.

Back in the days of the Truman administration there was a word used widely to describe the tenacious American policy toward the Soviet Union. It was "containment."

It meant that the Allies would draw a line around the Communist bloc and isolate it from the rest of the world. The crisis never became sufficiently acute to make such a policy effective, and gradually the proponents of "exchange"—whether in the educational, cultural or commercial field—came to the fore.

THE SOVIETS, however, have been getting the better of the bargain. They have been giving up little by way of information themselves through the exchange programs, but they have infiltrated nearly every large country and many of the smaller ones by increasing the staffs of their own embassies or legations—in many cases with several hundred persons—who enjoy diplomatic immunity.

These "diplomats" are the clandestine link between the Kremlin and the small but influential group of agents and party members in the various countries who carry on the Moscow-directed intrigue, subversion and espionage.

They transmit the billions of rubles, converted into Western currencies, to finance the whole Communist apparatus.

The Soviet enterprise throughout the world would collapse if trade embargoes were applied and the whole system of converting Soviet money into other currencies were blocked off, so that the funds that flow to agents in Cuba or Mexico or South America or the Middle East or Southeast Asia or Africa would in large part be stopped.

There are plenty of countermeasures "short of war" which the West can take. The situation in Berlin affords a real opportunity.

SINCE THE SOVIETS have ordered their puppet government in East Germany to seal off the borders, the Allies could close their borders, too. A non-intercourse program could be gradually extended to apply to the other satellite countries. Certainly uprisings internally would occur in the Communist-dominated areas.

Why should the West fear or timidly refrain from encouraging such outbreaks? Some failures will occur but this is the price that has to be paid in the long struggle against Soviet Tyranny.

Allies Caught Flatfooted

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Premier Khrushchev apparently caught the Western Allies flatfooted, unprepared when over the weekend he suddenly sealed off East Berlin by stopping the flight of East Germans to West Berlin.

This is indicated by Washington stories these last few days on conferences among representatives of the Big Four Western Allies — United States, Britain, France, West Germany.

At first they agreed countermeasures would have to be taken. And in West Germany Chancellor Konrad Adenauer talked of cancellation of trade agreements with Communist East Germany.

The Reds responded fast with a threat to shut off Berlin from the West altogether. The two Berlins—East and West—lie 119 miles inside Communist East Germany.

This seemed to cool off Adenauer. And by Wednesday the same representatives of the four Western powers couldn't agree on what to do besides sending a note of protest to Moscow today.

Meanwhile, perhaps as a substitute for action, top U.S. officials labeled the Communist seal-off of East Berlin as a heavy Red defeat strengthening the West in the struggle over Germany.

At the moment this looks like wishful thinking. The fact that the Communists, who preach the wonders of their system, had to stop with guns the hordes of East Germans trying to get away from it makes good propaganda for the West.

But it's highly questionable that what has happened strengthens the West one bit in the struggle over Germany. The simple fact is that the Communists hold East Germany and East Berlin and the West shows no sign of trying to stop that.

The Allies have been planning for a showdown for months on Khrushchev's threat of last June to shake the Allies' links with West Berlin. But nothing shows they were prepared to cope with the surprise Khrushchev pulled in refusing to let East Germans cross over into West Berlin.

On Monday The Associated Press reported out of Washington that representatives of the Big Four Western Allies agreed "some sort of counter measures have to be taken" in retaliation.

On Tuesday the AP reported: "A Western Big Four ambassadorial meeting to work on countermeasures was reported to have encountered a rift over what actions should be taken."

"The United States, Britain and France were described as leaning toward only limited response for the present. The West German government said it would take its own countermeasures against the Communist clampdown."

On that same day—Tuesday — the AP reported out of Berlin that Adenauer was saying a Western embargo against the entire Soviet bloc was under consideration. And the AP added: "But informed sources said that Washington and London feared such a sweeping reprisal would bring on more drastic action like the 1948-49 blockade."

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

President Kennedy is able to get freedom from global worries on weekend yacht trips on Nantucket Sound.

A day on the water isn't as restful as it used to be, but it helps. It must mean a lot to the President to concentrate only on whether the motor, rather than Khrushchev, is over-heating, whether the thrusters just ahead are local or global; and to know at once if sea gulls or diplomats are dead ahead.

He can be at peace on the "Marlin" and get a respite from worries up to the moment when seagoing hotrod is sighted zigzagging off the port bow.

It is easier for him to read a chart and tell where he is going than to read a world map for the same purpose. Disturbance just ahead is sure to be a school of porpoises and not a gathering of Soviet leaders.

If the boat rolls or pitches, the sensation will be pleasant compared to what he endures on rough seas of a working week in Washington.

It's a relief to worry only over whose shoes scratched the mahogany deck instead of whose speeches scratched international situation.

The only cold war on yachting trip comes in a possible argument over who is responsible for fact not enough ice was put in ship's icebox.

The question, "Has the yacht been ventilated?" is easier on the nerves than, "What's new from East Berlin?" and anybody would rather worry over whether the gas tank rather than tomorrow's agenda is full.

Budgets, press conferences, cabinet sessions, Latin America, Laos and Vietnam seem to fade when JFK is out on the briny deep, concerned chiefly over what his guests want for cocktails, how to serve lunch in a cross-sea and whether he forgot to take in the ship ladder before going full speed ahead.

Happy sailings, Mr. President! They must seem wonderful these days.

THERE ARE SO MANY entries in the New York mayoralty race it may have to be run from the gate at Belmont or Aqueduct.

Jersey man who went skin-diving turned up in Texas. Must have been either a strong current or a pursuit by man-eating sharks.

Prisoners in a Rome jail walked out because of the high cost of living. They were made to pay 64 cents a day in working out fines. It's getting so a man can't afford a prison term without federal aid.

In that Met grand opera financial dispute wouldn't the musicians take a note?

Antique "sleigh bed" has been presented to the White House. Come, come, it isn't that cold down there, even to Republican guests.

Khrushchev is only man who can use a 110-ton megaton bomb, a dove, a carrot and an olive branch in one paragraph.

"Let us not fan the flames of war, but rely on reason," urges Nikita. It seems to us he must pause after a remark like that and exclaim, "Is this ME talking?"

Bulldogs Get Togs

EAST PALESTINE —Football uniforms were to be issued today to prospective gridgers for the East Palestine High School squad which will launch a 10-game schedule Sept. 8 at home with Canfield under Rey Dempsey, former Hopewell (Pa.) mentor in his first year here. Practice will begin Thursday. About 30 boys have been out for the summer physical fitness program under Dempsey.

Records show that in 1958 14 boys and three girls were sentenced, and five ordered to the diagnostic center. In 1959, there were 20 boys and eight girls sentenced and eight sent to the center. Last year, eight boys and five girls were sentenced, none placed with the center.

So far this year, twelve boys have been sentenced, and nine sent to the center.

"This problem will have to be met on the local level, and the county will have to seek means of paying for it. I will not release children who should go to institutions just because there are no beds available or their IQ's are not satisfactory," he commented.

The judge released past assignment figures to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster and the Girls Industrial School at Delaware for which restricted quotas have now been ordered by Gov. Michael DiSalle due to overcrowded conditions.

The county's quota will be nine boys and three girls, provided that there are beds available and all have intelligent quotients of 70 or better. The quota also includes the juvenile diagnostic center at Columbus.

Judge Tobin said two-thirds of the young people sent to these institutions in the past have had IQ's of between 50 and 70. Since the state school for feebleminded will not accept any with IQ's above 50, the judge said he now has no place to assign these offenders.

Resist Government Or Obey?

East Germany Christians Are Facing Tough Issue

By GEORGE W. CORNELL Associated Press Religion Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Christians of Communist East Germany are struggling today with a tough issue of theology: Should they resist the government or obey?

Some church leaders have advocated defiance.

Others have counseled obedience, to a point.

The question has been smoldering in German church life for two years. With tensions mounting over Berlin, it has become a blazing undercurrent, recent events show.

Also at issue is whether the Easterners should stick to their homes and churches, or try to flee.

Seeking to allay the doubts, Germany's United Lutheran Church has issued an advisory saying East German Christians should stay where they are, avoid open political resistance, but not support the regime.

The church includes congregations on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Romans 13-1, of St. Paul's epistles, was cited as prescribing civil law-abiding, even in a police state. The verse says: "Let every person be subject to the governing authorities. For there is no authority except from God, and those that exist have been instituted by God. Therefore he who resists the authorities resists what God has appointed."

It is this passage that has stirred the theological soul searching, as well as some sharp conflicts among German Christian leaders.

Bishop Otto Dibelius of Berlin, 81, the doughty Christian warrior who retired last spring as head of the Evangelical Church in Germany, previously ignited the fuse by saying the East German regime didn't qualify as a God-ordained authority.

Germany's United Lutheran Church, in trying to give some stabilizing guidance, said the Eastern Christian "can only accept the fact that he lives in an atheistic state and put up with it; but he must never approve or support it."

The fair will begin with a school football clinic and school band concert on Sept. 1, designated as "School Night."

The Fairview Grange of Pugh-town is sponsoring an exhibition of vegetables, canned goods, quilts and fancy work. The public is invited to enter items in the exhibit, according to W. C. Jones of the Lions Club.

The Prop Spinners Club of Winterville will display and fly model airplanes during the fair. A pet show and doll show also are scheduled. Special attractions include trick horse riders, barbershop quartet singing, band concerts, hay rides, pony rides and displays of arrowheads and Indian relics.

A program of music is scheduled throughout Labor Day. Flower arranging demonstrations will be held. Jack Holcomb, a singing evangelist, will lead a hymn sing in the Trinity Methodist Church on Sept. 3.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Melvin Cordes, 71, was killed by an automobile while walking near his home in suburban White Oak Wednesday night.

He and his wife, Katherine, have two sons, Al, 10, and Larry, 7.

Records show that in 1958 14 boys and three girls were sentenced, and five ordered to the diagnostic center. In 1959, there were 20 boys and eight girls sentenced and eight sent to the center. Last year, eight boys and five girls were sentenced, none placed with the center.

So far this year, twelve boys have been sentenced, and nine sent to the center.

"This problem will have to be met on the local level, and the county will have to seek means of paying for it. I will not release children who should go to institutions just because there are no beds available or their IQ's are not satisfactory," he commented.

The judge released past assignment figures to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster and the Girls Industrial School at Delaware for which restricted quotas have now been ordered by Gov. Michael DiSalle due to overcrowded conditions.

The county's quota will be nine boys and three girls, provided that there are beds available and all have intelligent quotients of 70 or better. The quota also includes the juvenile diagnostic center at Columbus.

Judge Tobin said two-thirds of the young people sent to these institutions in the past have had IQ's of between 50 and 70. Since the state school for feebleminded will not accept any with IQ's above 50, the judge said he now has no place to assign these offenders.

Judge Says IQ Factor Bars Sentencing Of Some Youths

Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin said Wednesday 60 per cent of boys and girls previously sent to state correctional institutions from Columbiana County had mental levels lower than now acceptable, and he has no place to assign these offenders.

Cleveland Police Fail In Hunt For 'Most Wanted'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland police made a vain search Wednesday for a Cleveland who is one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men.

The FBI said it was told a man fitting the description of Anthony Vincent Fede, 46, was seen in suburban Lakewood in a black station wagon bearing Florida license plates. The car was east-bound.

City police, at the request of the FBI, stopped six station wagons, one on a downtown bridge, the others on the Lakewood Expressway. Their search for the man thought to be Fede was unsuccessful.

Fede, sought by the FBI since last September, is charged with taking $1,500 at gunpoint from an East Side tavern, kidnapping the owner and a barmaid, both of whom later escaped.

From High Roof

Injured Man Rescued

A 75-year-old self-employed contractor is in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with ankle and elbow injuries suffered when he fell Wednesday from a ladder while working on the roof of the Keys Co. building on Market St.

John L. Keenan, 716 Minerva St., was admitted for X-rays of the left ankle and left elbow after he fell about four feet from a ladder onto the roof, police said. He may have suffered fractures.

Keenan was waterproofing a penthouse elevator shaft when his ladder slipped on the freshly-tarred roof.

Police were called at 11:45 a.m. and firemen took the aerial ladder to the scene as a means of lowering the victim from the roof after he had been strapped into a "basket" stretcher.

However, police and firemen finally lowered Keenan to a nearby fire escape of the Travelers Hotel and then used the hotel's elevator to bring the victim to the ground floor where he was placed in an ambulance. He is shown being lowered in a stretcher carry from the roof.

ber of the Presentation Catholic Church, American Legion Post 481 and Steelworkers Local 1212, all of Midland.

In addition to his father, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary B. Doyle, and son, John Joseph Doyle; two brothers, Charles A. Doyle and Frank D. Doyle, and a sister, Mrs. Mary L. Pike, all of Midland.

The Cannon Funeral Home of Midland is arranging services.

New Ballot Bids Sought

The County Election Board today issued a new call for bids to print ballots after rejecting the lone proposal it had received from the Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said printers have been advised that bids will be received until 1 p.m. (EST) on Tuesday and the board may award a contract that night.

The Salem firm's bid was rejected in the hope of obtaining a better price, O'Hanlon said. Dodge had asked $10,226.57 in submitting the lone offer to print both regular ballots and those used for questions and issues.

Meanwhile, the board has received the official form of the ballots for the general election from Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

It includes a huge form to be used in voting on four proposed state amendments. The ballot measures about 19 by 13½ inches without the stubs or margins, nearly the size of this newspaper page.

Surplus Foods Given 178 Wellsville Cases

Surplus food was distributed at Wellsville Wednesday to 178 families for 508 persons. This was 87 per cent of the families and 84 per cent of the persons certified, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director.

Tuesday, 340 families with 781 persons received food at the Central Fire Station in East Liverpool. This represented 84 per cent of families and 80 per cent of the persons certified, Bycroft said.

Old Assault Charge Continued By Court

A hearing for Floyd Kent of East Liverpool on an assault charge dating back to May 19 was continued today in Municipal Court until Wednesday at 9 a.m. to permit police to locate the complaining witness.

Kent pleaded not guilty to the charge filed by Wayne E. Coleman, alleging Kent beat him nearly three months ago. Coleman signed the affidavit while hospitalized with injuries, Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark and Police Lt. Thomas A. Walker said.

The officer said police have no record of Coleman's address or telephone but will attempt to locate him.

Officers Kept For Fire Unit

Present officers were held over and talks and demonstrations on pumps and "LP" gas were given at the meeting of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association Wednesday evening at Minerva.

Under suspension of rules, the group voted to postpone its election of officers until November with present officers continuing until new ones are installed in January.

Officers are Robert Lewis of Wellsville, president; Paul Adams of East Palestine, vice president, and Alfred Van Dyne of East Liverpool, secretary-treasurer.

Fire Chief Whitey Beechy of Sugar Creek, a specialist on fire pumps, gave a demonstration and talk. Four points he stressed were power of the truck, water supply, priming pump and knowing the equipment and distributing water.

Harold E. Brumby of the Liquid Petroleum Gas Co. of Canton gave a talk and demonstration on "LP" gas. The gas is used in homes and trailers. Next meeting will be Sept. 20 at North Georgetown.

Stiffer Laws On Trash Set

Only westbound traffic would be permitted on Orion Ave. adjoining Pyramid St. on the west side for 100 feet, under the law.

Councilman Cyril Govey, chairman of the street committee, reported the Snyder Paving Co. of Hanoverton is scheduled to start next week on a $3,200 resealing of a number of streets.

He said the work may begin Tuesday or Wednesday.

Council explained the procedure for obtaining water service to Harold Cashdollar of Orion Ave. in Tinsenville, who asked about water line extension to the area.

About 40 homes are located in Tinsenville, which is in the east section of the city, within the city limits.

It was explained the city cannot lay water lines unless paid for by the property owners. The city will pay for the first 50-foot section of such an extension, but the remainder must be paid for by the property owners. These payments are refunded to the owners, with interest, over a period of 10 years, it was explained.

In other action, Council authorized extended police protection for the City Park after Lawrence Cline and Harold Dickey, Park Commission members, cited damage in the park by vandals.

Cline said he believes the police should make several trips daily to the park — "It is city property and should be policed." "Only about 10 per cent of the children playing there cause the trouble," he added.

Police Chief Harold Davis said he walks along the adjacent railroad tracks daily.

Council granted Russell Slack of Pennsylvania Ave. permission to break curbing for a driveway.

No action was taken on a request from Mrs. Sylvia Bishop, City Hall caretaker, for a $100 pay addition for extra time spent on duty in the past five years. She pointed out she serves 24 hours a day in caretaker duties and answering the emergency telephone calls at night.

Council recently granted such extra pay to police and the street supervisor, Hubert Myers.

Councilman W. F. Bishop, chairman of the water and sewer committee, reported delinquent water bills have been reduced from some $3,500 of July 1 to $2,884.

City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner was granted permission to place a receptacle at Route 30 and Lawrenceville Rd. adjacent to her home for people to dispose trash.

City Clerk Roy Cashdollar read a letter from the volunteer fire department, thanking city officials for taking part in the recent firemen's parade and expressing appreciation to the city police for their assistance during the annual fair.

Clerk Cashdollar, acting mayor, presided in the absence of Mayor Ray Collins, who is on vacation.

On Language Phrases

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Lessons in French, German, Italian, Spanish and Japanese are being repeated over a loudspeaker periodically each day in the Intelligence Division of the 301st Bomber Wing at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

Lt. Col. W. L. Stevenson, division chief, says it's intended to teach the men language phrases useful when they serve overseas. By learning language characteristics now, he thinks they will find it easier to learn the tongue of the nation in which they serve.

Eventually the program is to be expanded to include teaching selected phrases to combat aircrews for use in emergency situations in foreign lands, Stevenson says.

Berlin

compulsory military service. But young men often are put under pressure to enlist with the promise that it will help their chances for later education and advancement.

The U.S., British and French embassies in Moscow handed the Soviet Foreign Ministry notes charging that the barricades violate the postwar four-power status of Berlin and the four-power agreement for free movement throughout the former German capital.

The U.S., British and French commandants in West Berlin presented similar protests Tuesday to Col. Andrei L. Solovyev, the Soviet commandant. Solovyev gave no immediate reply.

The Soviet commandant had, however, rejected Wednesday a protest entered by the Western officers about two weeks ago against harassment of refugees then streaming to West Berlin at the rate of several thousand a day.

The East German Communist party paper Neues Deutschland repeated the contention that the four-power status of Berlin—established in war and postwar agreements—"has long ceased to exist."

At least five members of the East German People's Police bolted through the steel ring around East Berlin during the night and took haven in the Western part of the city, West Berlin police reported.

The five made separate dashes into Western territory and asked for asylum, a spokesman said.

Unofficial reports in West Berlin newspapers indicated the total might be higher.

The uniformed defectors from communism were among the thousands of police, troops and militiamen jammed around West Berlin to prevent the escape of refugees. Instead of stopping others, they chose to flee themselves.

A soldier of the East German army and a member of a factory militia unit, both in uniform, Tuesday dashed through the barbed wire cutting East Berlin off from the west.

Mayor Willy Brandt sought Western approval to seize the Communist-run elevated railway in West Berlin despite another Red threat to blockade the city in retaliation.

The fiery mayor was to press his plan for "action more than words" at a meeting with the Western Big Three commandants, who must approve any take-over since Berlin is still an occupied city.

Brandt told 200,000 West Berliners at a rally Wednesday to demand Allied action against the Communist closure of the Berlin border that the Allied commandants were giving favorable consideration to the rail seizure. The East German regime controls and nets a neat profit from the elevated lines that run through both West and East Berlin.

Brandt declared it was intolerable for West Berliners that their train fares were going to buy barbed wire to fence in East Berliners.

The official East German radio brushed off Brandt's call for a boycott of East German cultural and trade events, including the big Leipzig Fair, but rose to his threat to seize the rail lines.

"Let Brandt take over the railroads," they warned. "He'll be surprised at what will happen."

The East German news agency ADN said Western seizure of the railway property "would lead only to blockading West Berlin," as the Communists did in 1948-49. West Berlin—isolated, 110 miles inside Communist territory—was kept alive then only through an Allied airlift.

The Reds made the same threat Tuesday in answer to proposals that Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government suspend trade between West and East Germany, totaling some $500 million yearly, in retaliation for the ban on East German travel into West Berlin.

The United States, Britain and France quickly made clear that they do not contemplate drastic counteraction at present and Adenauer, after speaking in favor of a break in all East-West trade, retreated Wednesday.

Adenauer said he does not think the present Berlin crisis will lead to war and that the real crisis will come only when Soviet Premier Khrushchev signs a separate peace treaty with East Germany and tries to end the Allied occupation of West Berlin.

Adenauer said he will fly to Berlin next week for a first-hand survey of the situation in the divided city.

Brandt called on the Western powers to put the Berlin Situation before the United Nations and said he had sent a personal letter to President Kennedy saying "Berlin expects more than words, it expects political action."

In Washington, the White House said the letter had not been received and that it would have no comment.

Allies

military alliance, known as the Warsaw Pact, publicly ordered the East German regime to take measures on the West Berlin border which would "put an end to the present abnormal situation"—that is, halt the massive flight of refugees from communism.

The Western powers said that by the action, the Warsaw Pact nations were "intervening in a domain in which they have no competence."

It is to be noted, said the Western protest, that the Warsaw Pact declaration "states that the measures taken by the East German authorities are 'in the interests of the German peoples themselves.'"

It is difficult to see any basis for this statement, or to understand why it should be for the members of the Warsaw Pact to decide what are the interests of the German people.

A previous protest had been made by the Western military commandant to the Soviet commander in Berlin. Today's diplomatic operation by the three Western powers simply raised the level of the complaint without setting forth any new arguments or asserting any demand for a change.

The case rested on two international legal points—first, that the Soviet Union and the Western Allies obligated themselves at the end of World War II, in their German occupation agreements, to treat all of Berlin as a separate political unit under big-power control.

The second point was that, following the breaking of the Berlin blockade by the Western airlift in 1949, the Soviet Union reaffirmed four-power control of Berlin by a new agreement made in New York.

The British protest said that the United States, Britain and France have never accepted "that limitations can be imposed on freedom of movement within Berlin."

It added: "The boundary between the Soviet sector and the Western sectors of Berlin is not a state frontier."

professor of chemistry at the University of Ottawa, said he had glanced over some of Klotchko's published work and on the basis of these doubted his defection would be of strategic importance to Canada.

The published work was largely concerned with electrical properties and a study of electrodes, Westland said.

U.S. scientists said chemistry is not one of the stronger sciences in the Soviet Union and is given a back-seat financial status to such others as space research, mathematics, physics and astronomy. There was some speculation that Klotchko was dissatisfied with conditions of his work.

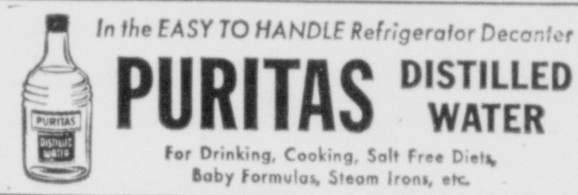

Klotchko's most recent post was reported to be head of a chemical laboratory in Moscow.

Lack Of Beach Space Perils Tourist Trade

HONOLULU — Oahu island beaches are pressed for space, according to a survey. And unless there is rapid expansion, Hawaii's tourist trade may be the loser.

A private survey warns that when beaches become overcrowded, "visitors begin to go elsewhere to spend their vacations." One solution, the study suggests, might be establishment of controls on beach use at peak periods particularly in the Waikiki area.

The survey of Oahu beaches was conducted in conjunction with a proposal to expand beach area at Ala Moana Park on the fringe of Waikiki.

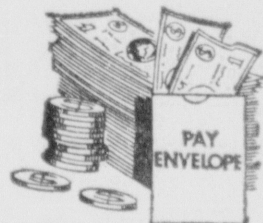

The report notes that suitable beach use allows 150 square feet of space per person. Cutting that by 50 feet creates crowded conditions, it said. The survey shows that Waikiki Beach averages 44 square feet per person.

New High For Podres

LOS ANGELES — Johnny Podres reached a new career high for one season when he gained his 14th victory (he had lost three times) in an 11-4 win over the Chicago Cubs. Podres, World Series hero of the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers, never had won more than 13 big league games in one season. He had a 13-15 record for the champion Los Angeles Dodgers in 1959.

Industry Bride, Husband Establish Home At Butler

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Stirling are residing in Butler following a honeymoon in Atlantic City after they were married July 29 in the Presentation Catholic Church in Midland.

The bride, the former Miss Ruth Madish, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Madish of Industry. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earle Stirling of Butler.

Fr. Thomas Rodgers read the double-ring rites before Nuptial High Mass at noon. The altar was decorated with white blossoms and ferns. White satin bows marked family pews.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was groomed in a frock of imported Chantilly lace featuring a scalloped Sabrina neckline enhanced with sequins and seed pearls, long, formal sleeves and a smooth fitted bodice. The bouffant skirt with alternating ruffles of tulle and lace was scalloped at the edges, ending in a chapel train.

A Queen Anne's crown of orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of illusion. A cascade bouquet of white carnations and roses, lilies-of-the-valley, stephanotis and ivy was carried by the bride, who wore a diamond-set cross, a gift of the bridegroom. All familiar traditions were observed.

Following Mass, she placed a bouquet of white blossoms on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

Miss Nancy Madish of Industry, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a sleeveless street-length gown of shrimp nylon mist and lace fashioned with a semi-scoop neckline and tucked waistband over a bouffant skirt with deep hemline.

Her matching short jacket of lace had three-quarter sleeves and fitted bodice. A matching Swiss braid crown held her short, theater veil. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white carnations and shrimp pompons tied with shrimp satin streamers.

Miss Karen Stirling of Butler, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Diane McCombs of Smiths Ferry, bridesmaids, wore gowns of street-length blue nylon mist patterned identical to that of the maid of honor and carried similar bouquets of blue carnations and blue pompons tied with blue satin streamers.

Diane Madish, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a frock featuring a blue brocaded top with a full white nylon skirt over a blue underskirt. She carried a white lace basket filled with white carnations and pompons.

James Ashman of Butler was best man. John Madish of Industry, brother of the bride, and Howard Warren of Butler ushered.

Attendants received white gloves as the bride's gifts.

Mrs. Madish wore a gray and white chiffon print frock with white accessories. Mrs. Stirling chose a green eyelet sheath dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations and red roses.

The bride's parents were hosts for a wedding dinner in the afternoon at the Industry fire hall for 50 guests, and a reception in the evening at the firehall for 150 guests.

A memory candle, a gift of the bride's parents, and a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the bride's table. Arrangements of pink carnations, snapdragons and ferns completed decorations.

Mrs. Rocco Longo, Mrs. Robert Madish, Miss Janet Madish, Mrs. William Tichy, Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Alan Leiffer and Mrs. Robert Dodds were aides.

The bride, a 1958 graduate of Midland High School, is employed as a waitress at Garden Gate restaurant in Butler. Her husband, a 1956 graduate of Butler High School, is employed as a painter for the J. C. Ashman Co. of Butler.

Guests included the bride's grandfather, Mealy Madish, Miss Sheila Shane, cousin of the bride, Miss Janet Madish of Miami, the bride's aunt, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lisac of Charleroi, godparents of the bride.

SHIRLEY TURNS GEISHA

LEARNING. Shirley Maclaine practices story-telling by fan, a step in preparation for her Japanese role. Then came the makeup job, and Shirley emerged, an honest-to-goodness geisha... (see right)...

With expert makeup, an actor or actress can become almost anything the script calls for.

But the makeup job that transformed an American film actress, red-headed, freckle-faced Shirley Maclaine into a Japanese geisha for her starring role in "My Geisha" was a real accomplishment. The picture is being made in Japan.

Makeup man Frank Westmore worked with six Japanese technicians and a corps of geishas to perfect the transformation. When she finally emerged, plus hairdo and costume, she was geisha enough to fool any Japanese.

"After Shirley's freckles," said Westmore, "our greatest problem was her eyes. We applied small tabs to cover her eye ducts, then blocked out her eyebrows with mortician's wax and drew a crescent-shaped eyebrow above it. Next, we used eye-tabs at the temples to pull up the outer corners of her eyes for the Oriental slant." This was repeated every morning for two hours, and the same in reverse each evening.

The story of the film revolves about an American movie star who masquerades as a geisha to win the leading role in a new picture being produced in Japan by her husband, played by Yves Montand.

To get perfection for her role, Shirley even attended a school for geishas in Kyoto, and was given special instruction in Japanese speech and mannerisms.

Shirley's transformation into geisha is pictured here.

THE TRANSFORMATION. After expert makeup job, Shirley looked the perfect geisha, authentic enough to fool thousands of Japanese on streets of Tokyo and Kyoto.

Japanese technician applies correct method of head-binding to Shirley.

Shirley then applies paint to her eyebrows, an art she learned in school for geishas...

...and has a four-pound wig fitted on her head.

Shirley is now the nearly-finished product as two Japanese women fit her with an obi.

Shirley, upon entering school for geishas at Kyoto, is greeted by instructress and head of school. This form of greeting in room is called ojigi, accomplished by placing of fingers on a tatami, a mat made of rushes.

Sitting amid geishas-in-training, Shirley learns to play the shami-sen, which the geisha plays while she sings.

Alliance For Progress

Latin Bloc, Except Cuba, To Okay Kennedy's Plan

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The Inter-American Economic Conference winds up today with the final signatures—but not Cuba's—on an 8,000-word charter launching President Kennedy's $20-billion Alliance for Progress to get the jump on communism in Latin America.

In the closing hours of the conference U.S. Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon and Cuban economic czar Ernesto Guevara traded bitter words early today after the United States and 19 of the 20 Latin American nations had approved the charter and a 1,000-word summary to explain the program to the Latin American public.

Guevara, after abstaining on the vote, said the conference had established the "first link for real peaceful coexistence in America." He asserted the United States had voted for all parts of the charter and that this was an admission "that there can exist regimes which are not committed to free enterprise."

"Those governments which are against our system shall recognize the irreversibility of the Cuban revolution," Guevara declared.

Accusing Guevara of "untruths and falsehoods . . . to give the impression that the United States somehow recognizes the permanence of the present regime in Cuba," Dillon said: "This we do not do and never will do because to do so would be to betray the thousands of patriotic Cubans who are still waiting and struggling for the freedom of their country."

The chief of the U.S. delegation said the United States had extended the hand of friendship to the Cuban revolution but Prime Minister Fidel Castro spurned it.

The alliance plan provides for financial aid and self-help over the next 10 years to improve the lot of Latin America's 200 million citizens and reduce the region's glaring gap between poverty and wealth.

Of the $20 billion in foreign aid that is promised Latin America, more than half will come from the United States. The United States is also pledged to take the lead in soliciting the balance from its allies as well as investments from private sources.

Kansans Aid Countians In Auto Wreck

LISBON — A Lisbon family of four, whose car was wrecked in a traffic crash in Larned, Kan., was slated to resume a journey to California after the town opened its heart to the stranded Ohioans.

Donna, 27, and two children, Deborah, 4, and Arthur, 2, and his grandmother, Mrs. Clara Ipson of Niles, Kan., were given another auto through contributions by town residents.

Their auto was struck Saturday by one driven by Richard Delwayne Clark, 28, of Larned, who was jailed on charges of speeding, intoxication and operating an unregistered car.

The newspaper at Larned conducted a campaign to aid the Lisbon family and raised $214. An anonymous person then provided money for another car and a dealer sliced the price in half.

Richards suffered abrasions of the head, his wife received a bruised arm, and Mrs. Ipson was treated for fractured ribs. The children were unhurt.

The family was returning Mrs. Ipson to her home, then planned to go to California where Richards is to get a job.

Mrs. Richards is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wright of near Lisbon.

Two young Salineville women received neck injuries when their car was slammed from behind by another auto on Route 39 about a mile and a half northeast of the village Wednesday afternoon at 1:40, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Sharon Kay Cole, 19, of West End, the driver, and Judy Newhouse, 21, of Hanoverton Rd. were treated by a physician for "whiplash" injuries to the neck.

Miss Cole had halted for a stop sign when her auto was struck by one operated by Prescott Johnson, 34, of Massillon, the patrol said. He was not injured.

Johnson was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance. Damage was minor, the patrol said.

Redlegs Flog Dodgers In Double Shutout To Take Lead

Phils Drop 18th, Tie Loss Mark; Pirates Bow

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cincinnati Reds, knocked down and brushed off by the Los Angeles Dodgers as contenders in that National League pennant race, are back on top again after giving the Dodgers a public flogging that may have topped anything since the witch trials of Salem.
Right in the Dodgers' own ball yard, and in front of the largest (72,140) night crowd in NL history, the Reds made off with a sweep of the three-game show-down by drubbing Los Angeles 6-0 and 8-0 Wednesday night.
The Dodgers, who have been firing knockdown pitches at the Reds all season and making pointed talk of the pennant threat from San Francisco and Milwaukee, hadn't suffered a double-header shutout in 26 years. That was when they were a Brooklyn bunch, back on July 28, 1935, and Carl Hubbell and Clyde (El) Castelman pitched shutouts for the New York Giants.
Right-hander Bob Purkey, allowing just four hits in the first game, and left-hander Jim O'Toole, giving up just two hits in the nightcap, paired for the Reds' pitching job on the Dodgers, who now have lost four in a row for the first time this year.
San Francisco, in third place 7 1/2 games behind, defeated St. Louis 4-3, Milwaukee, nine games back in fourth, beat Pittsburgh 2-1 as Warren Spahn won No. 301. The Philadelphia Phils went down

Red Bites The Dust

RED BITES THE DUST. Cincinnati Reds Vada Pinson falls to the ground after being hit by a pitched ball thrown by Dodgers Stan Williams in the 7th inning of the first game of a double header Wednesday night at Los Angeles. Pinson was knocked unconscious but recovered and was able to walk to the clubhouse. He was sent to the hospital for X-rays. The Reds won the first game, 6-0, and second, 8-0. (UPI Telephoto)

Ohio Football Squads Open Practice Friday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's high school football teams open practice Friday.
W. J. McConnell, state commissioner, said today close to 600 teams will be fielded, with some 25,000 boys participating.
Scrimmage sessions with other schools are banned until Saturday, Aug. 26, and the opening games or multi-school previews cannot be staged until Sept. 8—the first Friday after Labor Day.
The state board of control meets Friday morning, but McConnell said nothing momentous was on the agenda and that the annual North-South All-Star football game's future probably would not be discussed.
The Ohio High School Football Coaches Association, co-sponsor of the annual Yankee-Rebel tilt, requested that all action on the game be delayed by the board until the mentors have a chance to present their views.
Approval of the board is necessary if the All-Star game is to continue the 16-year series. The NCAA ruled that boys participating in all-star games not sanctioned by the state scholastic board must forfeit a year of collegiate eligibility, and the state board is on record as being against further approval.
The coaches have a campaign under way which they hope will change the board's opinion, and allow the game to continue. The 1961 contest at Canton last week attracted some 14,500 fans as the South broke a three-game losing streak and won 14-6.

Lawrenceville Wins, Advances To Final Round

Lawrenceville gained the final round of the South Side Pony League's Shaughnessy playoff Wednesday by edging Hanover, 5-3, in the second round.
Lawrenceville now awaits a battle against Georgetown Monday night, with the winner to receive a trophy.
Roger Adkins and Bill Wright hurled Lawrenceville to the triumph, limiting Hanover to five hits.
The winners banged out nine hits off D. Littell of Hanover, with Kenny Brewer singling and doubling, and Bill Wright socking a pair of doubles to lead the attack.
McClus storked a pair of singles for Hanover.
Lawrenceville scored two runs in the sixth inning to break a 3-0 tie and gain the victory. Wright fanned five.

Billed To Ride 5 Mounts

Arcaro At Waterford Park Today

Eddie Arcaro, the nation's most famous jockey, has been billed to ride five mounts in this afternoon's racing program at Waterford Park.
Post time is 4:15 o'clock and admission is free to the grandstand, President James F. Edwards said.
A crowd of 8,000 is expected to see Arcaro in action aboard So Shy in the third, King's Ghost in the fifth, Mute Question in the seventh, Punchon in the eighth, and Mesa in the ninth.
All races throughout the afternoon will carry the names of great horses which Arcaro has ridden in the past in accumulating his 5,000 victories and earnings of more than $30 million in purse awards.
They include five Kentucky Derby winners — Hill Gail, Hopp Jr., Lawrin, Whirlaway and Citation, as well as such equine titans as Bowl of Flowers, Sword Dancer, Bold Ruler, Nashua and the current sensation, Kelso.
A huge crowd saw Arcaro at Waterford two years ago when he failed to ride a winner in four attempts.
A number combination of 10-6 was worth a daily double return of $151.20 in Wednesday's program.

Lord Sheffield, with C. Clark aboard, won the first race; and Bow League took the second.
Leading jockey Francisco Saumell rode winners in the sixth and seventh races to boost his number of winning mounts to 47 for the meet.

Canfield Sets 11 Race Program On Saturday

Another 11-event program of stock car racing is on tap for the Canfield Speedway Saturday night.
A new event — a destruction derby — has been added to the regular program, pitting cars and drivers in crashing competition. The cars continue to crash into each other until only one is left running, and the driver is declared the winner.
Canfield's second annual "300" with new cars will be run Sept. 17.
Gates to the speedway Saturday night will open at 6:30. Time trials will begin at 7, and the first event at 8:30.

Junior Tennis Players Reminded Of Entries

Sunday at 6 p. m. is the deadline for entering the second annual Junior Tennis Tournament for players 18 years and under, Laurin Stacey, chairman, reminded today.
Sponsored by the East Liverpool Lions Club, the tourney will be held Aug. 25-27 at the Thompson Park courts and champions will be crowned in both singles and doubles.
Entry blanks are available at Clarence Wright's barbershop on Washington St. and the Ceramic Auto Store, Stacey said. Jack T. Smith is co-director.

Purkey And O'Toole Deal Double Zero To Dodgers

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jim O'Toole wasn't even born yet and Bob Purkey was just about old enough to sleep without his teddy bear the last time anyone did what they have just done to the Dodgers.
It was July 28, 1935—more than 26 years ago—that Carl Hubbell and Slick Castelman of the New York Giants shut out the old Brooklyn Dodgers through an entire doubleheader.
It didn't happen to the Dodgers again until Wednesday night, when Purkey and O'Toole turned the trick before a crowd of 72,140—the largest nighttime turnout in National League history.
The Cincinnati Reds not only swept the doubleheader, 6-0 and 8-0, but knocked Los Angeles into second place and took over the league lead themselves by a full game.
And if righthander Joey Jay hadn't had a wobbly start Tuesday night, when the Dodgers got a couple of runs off him in the first inning, the Reds would not only have swept the series but scored three straight shutouts.

As it was, the Dodgers finished the series with no runs in their last 26 innings and no extra-base hits in their last 37. They got 12 hits in the entire series—all singles.
Purkey allowed only four hits, struck out seven and didn't walk a man in Wednesday night's opener. Only one Dodger got beyond first base. Purkey (14-7) retired 11 straight batters in one span.
The Reds, meanwhile, got to loser Larry Sherry (4-3) for six runs in the first two innings. Frank Robinson drove in two of them with his 34th homer.
O'Toole was equally superb in the second game. He gave up just two hits, struck out seven, walked four, and let only two Dodgers reach second. He picked up his 12th victory in 21 decisions.
Gene Freeze hit his 21st and 22nd homers for the Reds in the second game and drove in four runs.
The Reds got five of their

"Remember that six-game lead we had? It didn't last long either."
While the Reds were singing in the showers, the Dodgers managed to scrub and dress themselves without making enough noise to offend a librarian.
"There's no two ways about it," said Dodger Manager Walt Alston. "They out hit us, outfielded us, outplayed us. They just kicked the hell out of us."

Maris Blasts 47th, 48th As Yanks Increase Lead To 3

Homers Back Pappas' 2-Hit Job On Tigers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When Wahoo Sam Crawford won the American League home-run title in 1908, he did it with a total of seven. And among the other dead ball champs, Nap Lajoie became the AL's first home run king in 1901 with 13.

Now Roger Maris, gunning for gold, glory and Babe Ruth's 60, suddenly has spurred his pursuit with seven home runs—matching Crawford's season total—in six consecutive games, and needs just 13 more—Lajoie's title total—to crack the Babe's long elusive record of 1927.

With his pair of two-run shots off southpaw Billy Pierce as the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 5-4 Wednesday on the 13th anniversary of Ruth's death, Maris now has hit 48 and has moved 15 games ahead of the Babe's record pace.

While the Yankees have played 119 games, one was a tie and doesn't count toward the 154-game limit on an unchallenged home-run record set by Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick. The ruling was made to equalize the AL's present 162-game schedule with the 154-game schedule that was in use until this year's expansion to 10 teams.

That means Maris has 36 games (decisions) in which to hit his record-busting 13. That averages out to one every 2.8 games.

As for the almost forgotten pennant race, New York moved three games ahead of second-place Detroit when the Tigers lost 8-2 to Baltimore. Cleveland defeated Boston 6-4, Washington beat Los Angeles 3-2, and Kansas City thumped Minnesota 12-7.

Despite Maris' slugging, it was by a hit batter with the bases loaded in the ninth that the Yankees beat the White Sox. After Jim Landis' second home run had tied it for the Sox in the sixth, the winning run was forced home when Warren Hacker plunked Bob

Sanders Eyeing More Golf Gold

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Gary Player and Arnold Palmer sitting this one out, Doug Sanders could strengthen his bid to become top man among golf's money winners with a victory in the $35,000 Indian Spring Open starting today in nearby Maryland.

Sanders, from Cedartown, Ga., could vault from third into second place in the dollar derby by picking up the tourney's $5,300 top prize.

This would raise his 1961 earnings to $52,959 and enable him to pass Palmer, who has hauled in $52,793. Player tops the list with $55,694.

Blocking Sanders' path, however, were 139 other golfers including such former Indian Spring winners of this 72-hole event as Julius Boros, Dow Finsterwald, Paul Harney and Doug Ford.

Wellsville Postpones Minor League Outing

A wiener roast scheduled Saturday night at Hammond's Park for the Wellsville Minor League has been postponed until Aug. 26 at 7 p. m. at the park, it was announced today.

All refreshments will be free, and parents are invited to attend. Individual trophies will be awarded. Boley's Barbershop won the league title. Virgil Kornbau is league president.

YANKEE SLUGGER CONNECTS. Roger Maris of the New York Yankees drops his bat and watches his 48th home run—and second of the day—sail into the upper right field stands in the third inning of the game with the White Sox Wednesday at Yankee Stadium. Yanks won, 5-4. (UPI Telephoto)

Tennis Star Raps Selectors For Leaving Her Off Team

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP) — Britain in Chicago Saturday and Sunday.

In an interview with Bud Collins of the Boston Herald Wednesday night, Darlene called the omission a "low blow."

"It was political string pulling," she charged, "and really stuns me after the way I practically killed myself in the Wightman matches last year."

She was responsible for three points in a 4-3 loss to the Britons.

She also charged that "maybe Mrs. (Margaret) Du Pont, the captain, tried to keep me off so that she could play doubles instead of me."

In Chicago, Mrs. Du Pont said the Wightman selectors decided against asking Darlene because she had been seriously ill and "had not demonstrated that she was fit again for such a strenuous match."

Stricken with hepatitis in May, Miss Hard is now playing her first tournament — the Essex County (N.J.) Club Invitation — in three months.

Maris Finds It Tough With His Sudden Fame

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris is known as "the angry man." Even his own teammates among the New York Yankees refer to him, on occasions, as "the red-necked Roger."

The man who today has the best chance of anybody in baseball history to shatter Babe Ruth's most fantastic of all home-run records—60 in one season—admits he is not the easiest person in the world to get along with.

"I was born surly," he says through thin lips that always seem to be snarling, "and I'm going to stay that way."

"Everything is tough in life," Maris, 26, adds.

A reticent man by nature, Maris has found it extremely difficult to cope with this comparatively sudden fame that has stemmed from his dramatic battle with teammate Mickey Mantle in their twin assault on Ruth's 1927 record. A lover of solitude, Roger finds the almost daily questioning by reporters, radio and TV commentators extremely trying.

"You fellows are tougher than some of those pitchers," he once said testily. "Where do you think up these silly questions? How the heck do I know whether I'll break Babe Ruth's record? Besides, you're the only guys thinking

Arroyo Not Worried About Death Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — Luis Arroyo, the New York Yankees relief pitching ace, says he's not worried about the death threat he received in the mail.

"I'll pitch when they call on me—here or any other place," the 34-year-old left-hander said today.

Arroyo said a letter postmarked from Jersey City was delivered to his Bronx hotel with the following threat:

"I don't like Puerto Ricans. The next time you go to the mound in Yankee Stadium I'm going to shoot you through the head."

The letter was turned over to Ralph Houk, Yankee manager, who passed it along to police.

about it. I don't. All I'm interested in is having a good season and winning the pennant.

"I'd rather have the dough than the record. And if I have a real good season, I'm going to ask for real dough next year, too."

For the record, Maris' 1961 salary is $32,500. Next year, it is expected, he will demand around $75,000. Mantle's estimated earnings this year.

Maris currently is three homers ahead of Mantle. He slammed two Wednesday to boost his total to 48 in 119 Yankee games, including a tie. That puts him 15 games ahead of Ruth's 1927 pace. Maris has 36 games left in which to top Ruth's mark for 154 games. Roger will have the advantage, however, of eight more contests because of the expansion of the American League schedule to 162 games.

In general, the public would not like to see Ruth's record broken.

Opens Friday At Vandalia

62nd Trapshoot Classic To Attract Top Shooters

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Trapshooters by the hundreds started their annual trek today to this quiet Miami Valley community.

The 62nd Grand American Trapshoot opens its preliminary firing stage Friday along a half-mile trapline, and the scattergun artists were coming in from everywhere.

Three days of tuneup firing lead into Monday's championship races which continue through Saturday, Aug. 26. The big barrage, offering around a quarter-million dollars in various cash prizes, figures to attract about 3,000 gun pointers.

They'll fire at least 1½ million 12-gauge shotgun shells as they zoom through the 1,000-target championship program. Titles will be decided at 16-yard clays, handicaps and doubles — for juniors, juniors, men, women, professionals, husband-wife, brother-brother and seniors.

These marksmen ask no favors. Kids who haven't reached their teens and veterans who have passed the four - score mark will fire shoulder-to-shoulder against all comers. Handicapped persons will shoot from wheel chairs or while balanced on crutches or astride bicycles.

Of the myriad of oddly-assorted entrants, one thing is true. They're the most safety-conscious group to be found. Through the years close to 70 million rounds of 12-gauge shells have been fired at the "roaring Grand" and only once has a person been injured by an errant pellet.

The championship races call for 600 targets at 16 yards, with each shooter placed that far back of the trap from which the flying clays emerge; 300 targets at handicaps, in which the marksmen are ranged from 18 to 27 yards behind the trap, according to their averages and known ability, and 100 doubles targets, in which two clays are thrown simultaneously.

Heading the list is the Grand American Handicap, the game's showpiece, scheduled for Friday, Aug. 25. This one, with the winner snatching around $8,000, a diamond medal and a cart-load of silverware, will have at least 2,500 entrants for the 100-target race.

Steelers Bow To Detroit In 17 To 14 Fray

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Despite the new faces, the 1961 edition of the Pittsburgh Steelers looks a good bit like the Steelers of old.

A slow starting team — not too hot on pass defense—and a strong finisher.

These were the characteristics the Steelers exhibited Wednesday night while dropping an exhibition game to the Detroit Lions at Forbes Field, 17-14.

The Steelers played sluggish ball on both offense and defense in the first half. That's when the Lions did all their scoring while Pittsburgh managed only one first down. And that came on a penalty.

Detroit reeled off 189 yards through the air in all, also scoring a touchdown on a pass, as the Steelers were held to 47 net yards passing.

The Steelers didn't come to life until the second half when they scored both their touchdowns.

Bobby Layne passed to Preston Carpenter for a 38-yard gain in the third quarter. After two more first downs, Charley Scates pushed over from the one-yard-line on fourth down.

Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb intercepted a pass for Pittsburgh on the Detroit 12-yard line in the fourth period, setting up the Steelers' second touchdown. The score came on a three-yard pass from Layne to Buddy Dial.

Detroit opened the scoring with a 42-yard field goal by Jim Martin in the first quarter. Later in the same period, Earl Morrall passed four yards to Jim Gibbon for a touchdown.

The second Lion touchdown came in the second period after Howard Cassady returned a Steel-er punt 69 yards to the Pittsburgh 10. Three plays later Morrall flipped out to Ken Webb who raced a yard for the touchdown.

Semifinals Set In Junior Girls Golf Tournament
SEATTLE (AP)—Mary Lowell of Hayward, Calif., who had to rally on the second nine for a victory in Wednesday's quarterfinals, faced Missouri Women's champion Judy Tourlomek today in the semifinal round of the National Junior Girls' Golf Championship.

The other 18-hole match pitted Margaret Martin of St. Clairsville, Ohio, against Jeannie Thompson of Tulsa, Okla. Jeannie, a high school senior, is 16; the others are 17.

Cracking par by two strokes with a 34 on the first nine of her match Wednesday, Miss Lowell erased Jeannie Butler of Harlingen, Tex., 2 and 1. In the afternoon, however, she was 1 down to Kathryn Farrer of Decatur, Ala., after nine holes.

From there on she was only one over par, winning on the 16th, 3 and 2.

Fate Of Strip Mine Bills More Uncertain
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The fate of bills proposing stronger back-filling requirements for strip mine was more uncertain than ever today.

A marathon effort to strike a compromise between opposing factions ended in chaos Wednesday night in the Senate.

More than a half dozen senators, representing coal mining counties, spent most of the day dickering with the State Mines Department, the Lawrence administration and stripping industry representatives.

Their work helped prolong the 11-hour Senate session, the longest of 1961.

Blacktopping Halted Pending Legal Ruling
WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Blacktopping of a little more than eight miles of six Trumbull County highways has been halted pending a ruling on the legality of the project.

Prosecutor Lynn B. Griffith Jr. is to rule whether county highway employees can do the work. Commissioner Joseph Baldine contended Wednesday that bids should have been asked since the projects' cost exceeded $6,000 a mile.

Francona's Three-Run Triple Aids Tribe, 6-4

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's Tito Francona is in a brief hitting slump with only one hit in his last 15 times at bat, but that hit couldn't have come at a better time.

The Indians' left fielder cracked a bases-loaded triple to center in the fifth inning Wednesday night with the Indians trailing 3-0, sparking the Tribe to a 6-4 triumph over the Boston Red Sox.

Jim Perry had a rough time for three innings, but he settled down, giving up just two hits the rest of the way to win his ninth game against 10 losses.

John Romano aided the Indians' cause with a solo homer in the sixth, his 16th, to tie his own record for most homers in a season by a Cleveland catcher.

The Indians got only five hits off Tracy Stallard and Mike Fornieles, who also whiffed 12 batters. It was a season high for the Indians this year. Jim Piersall bore the brunt of it, striking out four times.

The fifth inning rally started with Woody Held's single. Perry blooped a single to right and Ken Aspromonte walked, filling the bases. After Piersall struck out, Francona came through with his three-bagger to tie the game at 3-3. Francona came home on a grounder by Willie Kirkland and the Tribe took a lead they never relinquished.

Boston scored its final run in the seventh.

Piersall had one of the worst days of his major league career. Besides the strikeouts, he dropped a fly ball in the ninth by Chuck Schilling, who scampered to second. Gary Geiger followed with an infield hit. But Perry got Carl Yastrzemski to bounce out to Bubba Phillips for the final out.

Wynn Hawkins (6-8) is the choice to hurl for the Indians in the rubber game of the three game series. He'll face Ike Delock (6-7).

Good Chance Given Mexico In Zone Final

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The same Mexican tennis team that almost upset the American Davis Cup squad last year is given a good chance to win the American zone finals, which start Friday.

Observers watching the Mexican players practice here since Tuesday say they appear to have a fine edge. But they quickly point out the American team, slightly erratic earlier in the week, is much sharper now.

At noon today American Capt. David Freed and his Mexican counterpart, Francisco (Pancho) Contreras, hold the official draw to decide opponents in the singles play on the clay courts at the Cleveland Skating Club.

Their choices were not disclosed, but indications were Bernard (Tut) Barten, a master craftsman on clay, and Chuck McKinley would be used in the singles Friday and Sunday for the Americans. Contreras hinted he'll counter with Mario Llamas and Rafael Osuna in the singles.

The Americans probably will count on Dennis Ralston and McKinley in Saturday's doubles. Ralston, nursing a sore throat, may be replaced by Jon Douglas. Osuna and Antonio Palafox may handle the doubles' assignments for Mexico.

A Mexican tennis team never has defeated the United States.

Richmond Star Has Eyes On Two Individual Titles

By The Associated Press

Richmond's Tom Tresh has his eye on two individual titles in the International League.

The Virginian shortstop is Richmond's No. 1 candidate for rookie of the year honors. Getting two singles and a walk in three at bats in Wednesday night's 2-0 victory over Syracuse, Tresh became the first player to get 150 hits. This raised his average to .323, four points behind Ted Savage of Buffalo.

In other IL action, Rochester snapped an eight - game losing streak to blast league-leading Columbus 8-1. Charleston survived a late Buffalo rally to defeat the Bisons 6-5 and Toronto swept its second straight doubleheader from Jersey City, 3-2 and 4-2.

Herb Moford squared his record at 12-12 as the Columbus five-game winning streak came to an end. Six Jet errors gave Rochester six unearned runs with starter Fred Green the victim.

Moford, who hurled a one-hit shut out in his last appearance at Columbus, lost his shutout in the fifth inning when Duncan Campbell hit a home run.

Player For A's Caught On Trick, The Hidden Ball

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Kansas City clobbered Minnesota 12-7 Wednesday night, but one Athletics' player may have learned a valuable lesson.

Veteran outfielder Gene Stephens was caught on one of baseball's oldest traps—the hidden ball trick.

Stephens was on second base with one out in the ninth inning when Minnesota second baseman Billy Martin approached the bag and told Stephens he wanted to kick some dirt off the bag.

"When I put the tag on him," recalled Martin, "Stephens was dumbfounded."

"I felt kind of bad after I did it, but I think it taught Stephens a valuable lesson."

Stephens had nothing to say.

Maris Homer Assault Halts Senate Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate was in full debate on foreign aid when it was interrupted for "an important announcement."

The announcement came from Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., who in proud tones Wednesday advised his colleagues: "Roger Maris, a North Dakota farm-raised boy, hit two more home runs today. We expect him to break the world's record by quite a few."

Young sat down, beaming.

The Senate went back to work on foreign aid.

Maris, a New York Yankee, with 48 homers, is running ahead of Babe Ruth's record home run pace.

On Priority List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Army reserve units and one National Guard unit in Ohio are among those put on a priority list Wednesday for possible call to active federal service. The reserve units on the list are the 384th Engineer Co., Pipeline, of Youngstown; the 196th Transportation Co. of Cleveland, and the 318th Signal Co., Large Base, of Dayton. The Ohio National Guard unit put on alert is the 357th Ordnance Co. of Elyria.

Yachtsman Drowns

VEJLE, Denmark (AP)—Thor-kill Warrar, 52, a well-known Danish yachtsman who has competed in many international sailing events, was found drowned in the inlet a few hundred yards off his home Wednesday.

John Gordy, offensive guard, topped the Detroit Lions in playing time last season with 362 minutes in 12 league games.

Steelers Bow To Detroit In 17 To 14 Fray

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Despite the new faces, the 1961 edition of the Pittsburgh Steelers looks a good bit like the Steelers of old.

A slow starting team — not too hot on pass defense—and a strong finisher.

These were the characteristics the Steelers exhibited Wednesday night while dropping an exhibition game to the Detroit Lions at Forbes Field, 17-14.

The Steelers played sluggish ball on both offense and defense in the first half. That's when the Lions did all their scoring while Pittsburgh managed only one first down. And that came on a penalty.

Detroit reeled off 189 yards through the air in all, also scoring a touchdown on a pass, as the Steelers were held to 47 net yards passing.

The Steelers didn't come to life until the second half when they scored both their touchdowns.

Bobby Layne passed to Preston Carpenter for a 38-yard gain in the third quarter. After two more first downs, Charley Scates pushed over from the one-yard-line on fourth down.

4,000 Quit Hoffa Union; Fight Looms

CINCINNATI (AP) — A bitter and perhaps prolonged labor struggle loomed today on the heels of an almost unanimous break of some 4,000 greater Cincinnati members from James R. Hoffa's Teamsters' International.

It is the first major revolt against Hoffa's administration since his recent reelection.

Members from the dairy drivers, beverage workers and funeral and livery drivers locals met in three separate meetings to approve the rebellion.

Affiliation with the AFL-CIO was the expressed ultimate aim of the rebels.

Harold Gibbons, executive secretary of the International, addressed 1,700 members of the dairy drivers organization. But, taken under heavy police escort to a meeting of beverage workers, he was not permitted to enter the room.

Funeral and livery drivers followed earlier action of brother-affiliates in Hamilton, Ohio, in unanimous action to leave Hoffa's ranks.

All decisions were by standing vote only.

Organized cab drivers will vote on the issue today.

Gibbons said he and his boss (Hoffa) would "fight, forever if necessary" the decision taken Wednesday night and that the international union would set up an organization here "just as soon as it can be assembled."

But, he added, "we have no plans to come here and 'muscle' anybody. That went out with high-button shoes."

If as few as seven members indicate preference to remain in International charters will be maintained, Gibbons said. If the figure drops below seven, new charters would be issued and in either case, membership drives will get under way.

Wednesday night's meetings were conducted under close police scrutiny including details from the department's Canine Corps of trained police dogs.

The defection marked victory at last for James Luken, Cincinnati, long-time foe of Hoffa and leader in efforts in the Teamsters' recent national convention to unseat him. Luken nominated Milton J. Liss of Newark, N.J., to oppose Hoffa for the presidency. He called Liss at the time "the man who could give us the best chance to return to the house of labor." Liss went down to overwhelming defeat.

Gibbons, like William Presser of Cleveland, president of the Ohio Teamsters' Council, flew into Cincinnati late Wednesday. Presser Cincinnati problems" and he declined further comment.

Glass Keys To City Cite Major Industry
TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Glass making is the major industry in Toledo and notable visitors are presented glass keys to the city.

Leo J. Wonderly, city council sergeant-at-arms and keeper of the glass keys, estimates about 1,500 have been passed out to visiting dignitaries, including President Kennedy and former Vice President Richard Nixon.

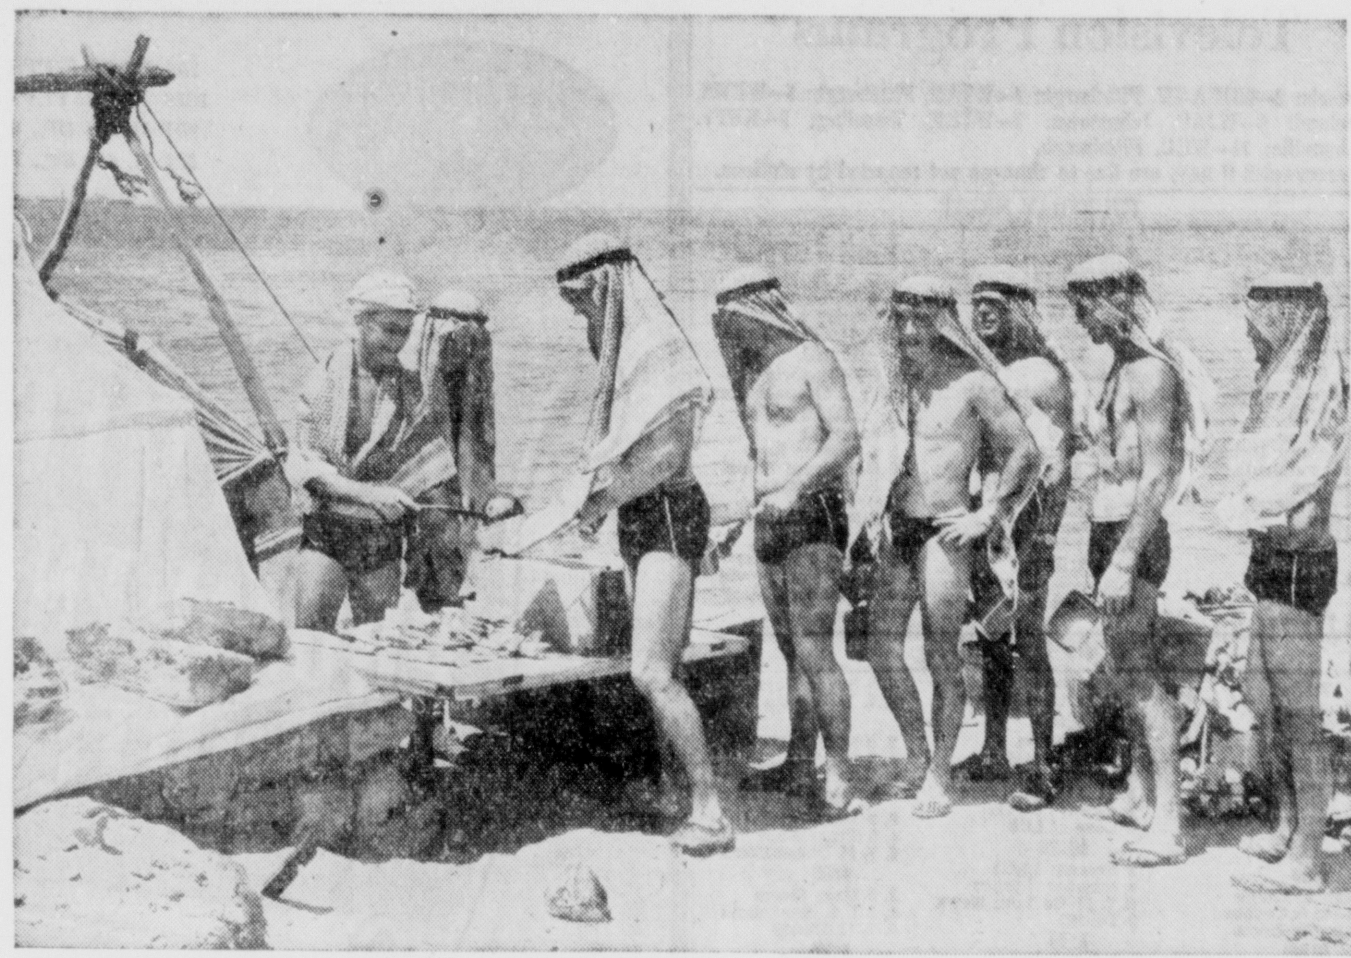

Nixon made a memorable comment on receiving the token, referring to it as "this plastic key."

Odd Facts
Difficult it is to realize that there are many people who have never seen the ocean — especially since more than 70 per cent of the earth's surface is covered by oceans. The Pacific alone covers 33 per cent of the globe, the Atlantic covers 16 per cent, the Indian Ocean 14 per cent, and eight per cent is covered by adjacent seas.

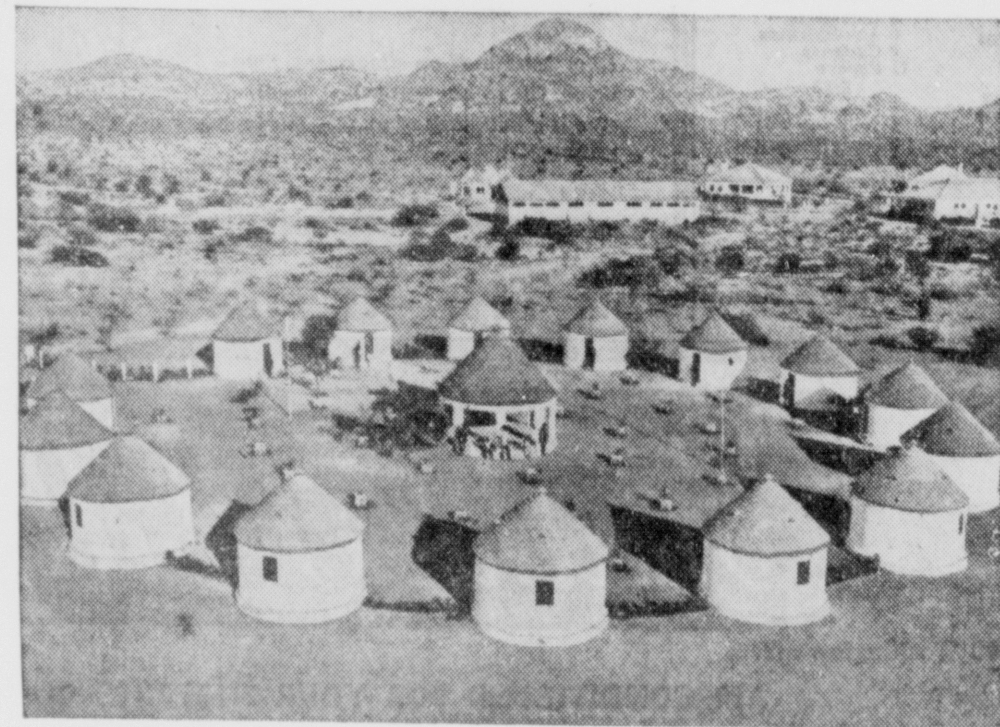

Meerschmum, the substance from which some tobacco pipes are made, is a light, porous mineral, occurring chiefly in alluvial deposits in Asia and being quite soft when mined. On rare occasions it is found floating on the surface of the Black Sea, from which its name (German for "sea-foam") is derived.

Paper money was in circulation many centuries ago. Marco Polo reported that the Chinese were using it when he visited their country in the 13th century. And he also claimed that Empress Kubla Khan issued notes printed on mulberry paper as early as A.D. 1273.

There have been only five U. S. vice presidents in history who have served two complete consecutive terms in that office. They were John Adams, Daniel Tompkins, Thomas Marshall, John Garfield and Richard Nixon.

WAIT IN KUWAIT. Mixed British and Arab costume features appear on this chow line at a rest camp near Mina Al Ahmadi, Kuwait. The British Royal Engineers have borrowed the Kafiyeh (Arab headdress) to protect them from the sun, but the swimsuits are strictly British. The variety in living conditions didn't extend to the food; it is still the same.

VILLAGE IN THE ROUND. Resembling huge sparkling white beehives, the round houses of wool industry workers in Angola form a near-perfect circle. A row of greenery connects the little dwellings and a common pavilion in the center is surrounded by scrub trees in their individual white picket fences. The little village is set in a barren area, so the workers spend their free time nursing the green plants.

Intoxicating Paint Makes Boys 'Drunk'

SAPULA, Okla. (AP) — They weren't drinking, boss, honest! Ed Witney, the boss, became suspicious when he heard loud, slurred singing coming from the basement of the Sapula High School building where two teenagers were painting.

He found one boy passed out on the floor and the other having navigational trouble.

It seems the boys used an alcohol-base paint and the fumes gave them a sense of intoxication.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Henry Fonda Answers Questions

Marie Torre is on vacation. Today actor Henry Fonda answers her questions about TV.

Q. What do you feel is responsible for the termination of your series?

A. With hour-long shows seeming to be the new trend this year, I was asked to expand "The Deputy" into a 60-minute show. This would mean, therefore, that at least nine months of the year would have to be spent in Hollywood filming the shows, which would preclude any other motion picture or stage activity.

Q. "The Deputy" was considered a "nonviolent Western" during its two years on the network. Is it possible for a Western to sustain interest without violence or can there be action without violence?

A. We did try to keep violence out of "The Deputy" and, considering the success it has had and is having in local markets through NBC films, I would say that it was possible to sustain interest without violence.

Q. In brief, how would you describe your relatively short experience in television? Are the pressures greater than in other fields?

A. I enjoyed the two years I was doing the series. Certainly there are pressures, but I must say I was very impressed with the way they could keep on a schedule. I think the theater and films could learn a lesson from the technicians in television.

Q. Do you enjoy Westerns as a viewer? As a performer?

A. As a performer, I enjoy them. I've done not only two seasons of "The Deputy" which I enjoyed, but I've done my share of Westerns in motion pictures. I can't comment as a viewer because, for the last two years, I've been in the theater working during the hours that most dramatic series are on the air—I've only seen about a half dozen of the 78 "Deputy" shows.

Q. "The Deputy" was your first series. Do you plan to do another?

A. For the time being I have no plans for another series as I am pretty well committed for the next two years with motion picture and stage work.

Q. What are your immediate plans?

A. This month I will start filming in one of the segments in "How the West Was Won," which will be made in Cinerama and with a wonderful cast which includes Jimmy Stewart, John Wayne, Gregory Peck, Debbie Reynolds, Richard Widmark, Carroll Baker, George Peppard and others. Hopefully, it will be a Western type "Around the World in 80 Days." Immediately after that, I have signed to star in Otto Preminger's production of the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel, "Advice and Consent," which we will make in Washington and Hollywood. I also am reading several other scripts for next year as well as considering one or two plays.

Q. Do you find feature motion pictures a more rewarding medium to work in than TV films?

A. There is nothing to compare with the impact of being seen on TV where 10 to 20 million people see one show. But it is really the same kind of work: TV films and motion pictures. The only difference is having to work a good deal faster in TV, which isn't bad. There is no medium like motion pictures for telling certain kinds of stories, however.

Q. What is your estimate of your daughter Jane's future as an actress?

A. I think she's only going to be about as exciting as it is possible for an actress to become. She's a very dedicated young girl, and extremely talented.

Q. Are you planning to appear with her in the future?

A. It's certainly not out of the realm of possibility. We've talked about it, and I think it would be a lot of fun.

Beaver Local Classes Will Begin Sept. 6

Classes will begin in Beaver Local schools Sept. 6 with a full-day schedule. George VanHorne, executive head, said today in announcing details for the beginning of the school year.

Teachers will meet Sept. 5 at 9 a. m. at the high school for a general session on the start of classes.

Hours will be the same at all schools as last year — Rogers, Elkton, West Point and Calcutta, 8:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.; high school, 8:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., and Public School, 8:45 a. m. to 3:20 p. m.

Bus routes and schedules will also be virtually the same, and what few revisions are required will be announced prior to the opening day, VanHorne said.

The schools will use Daylight Saving Time schedules until Sept. 24 when they will revert to standard time.

All new pupils in the district should register before the start of school, he said. New high school and Public School students may sign up at the schools daily, while new students for Calcutta, West Point, Rogers or Elkton Schools may register Aug. 28 - Sept. 1 at the Calcutta or West Point Schools.

New pupils must have complete immunization from polio, diphtheria, tetanus, small pox and whooping cough, VanHorne said.

The starting age for first grade is 6 on or before Oct. 1.

Cafeterias will be open for noon lunches at all schools, starting the first day, he said. Prices will be the same as last year, 30 cents for students and 35 cents for adults.

Extra milk programs will be in all schools as last year, he added.

Duke, 5, A Collie, Selected As Most Heroic Dog Of '61

CHICAGO (AP)—Duke, 5, a collie, today sports a gold medal on his gold collar, symbolic of his selection as the most heroic dog of 1961.

The dog was selected from 54 canine candidates from 29 states for having helped save the life of his mistress, Penny Grantz, 10, March 15 by ripping a flaming skirt from the child.

Duke suffered severe burns on the mouth in the act. Penny, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grantz, Niles, Ohio, was treated for eight weeks for burns over 50 per cent of her body.

Physicians say the dog "almost certainly" saved the little girl's life.

In addition to his medal and collar, Duke was awarded a gold-plated leash, a dog blanket, a year's supply of dog food, and a $1,000 U.S. bond in his owner's name.

Ceremonies befitting Duke's heroism marked the award presentation Wednesday.

Anti-Illiteracy Plan Launched By Castro

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro today mobilized 30,000 workers to join teachers and students in his anti-illiteracy campaign in Cuba.

The workers will go into Cuba's countryside, teaching peasants and farmers to read and write. Castro has set a goal of eradicating illiteracy by the end of 1961.

Castro spoke at a meeting of the Cuban Confederation of Workers, which has taken part in the campaign. The televised speech was monitored here.

Classes Set For Southern Local School

Southern Local School District's enrollment is expected to increase by some 30 students for the fall term, Jack Baker, executive head, said today.

The enrollment last term was about 1,046, he said.

Classes will begin Sept. 6, while teachers will meet Sept. 5 at 9:30 a. m. at the high school to complete plans for the opening of the term.

The Board of Education will meet Monday night at 7:30 at the high school to award milk and bread contracts and make final arrangements for the start of classes.

Drivers of the district's 12 buses were given physical examinations Wednesday morning, and three new 60-passenger buses were delivered, replacing three older vehicles.

Man Loses Argument On Skidding Tractor

CLONES, Ireland (AP) — Barney Mullen went to court Wednesday and testified that when his tractor started skidding it was in Northern Ireland but when it landed upside down in a field it was in southern Ireland.

Thus, said Barney, it is unfair to fine him for not having his tractor insured south of the border.

The incident took place last January. Barney, who lives in the northern County Fermanagh, said the skid had landed him over the frontier in southern County Monaghan.

Despite his protests, the southern Irish court fined him two pounds—$5.60 — for skidding into the Irish Republic without insurance for his vehicle.

Plastic Covers Aid Farming In Hancock

Black plastic is being used on the A. H. Hillyard farm near Chester to hasten the maturity of warm-weather vegetable crops, according to Oliver Johnson, Hancock County agricultural agent.

The plastic is laid over the ground with a tractor-operated machine. The black plastic absorbs the heat during the day, helps hold it in the soil at night, prevents moisture evaporation and controls the weeds and eliminates cultivation, Johnson said.

"But this procedure also has its handicaps," he said. "A hole must be slit and plants and seeds put in by hand. All fertilizer must be applied before the plastic is laid. It's only with heat-loving and high-value crops that black plastic has its place," he said.

Johnson added good corn crops are expected in the county if frost is late this fall. Small grains yields have been excellent, he said.

School bus drivers were to report to the school this morning at 9:30 for physical examinations. Drivers will meet Sept. 5 at 9 a. m. for assignments and instructions.

Teachers will meet Sept. 5 at 10 a. m. at the high school.

Pupils entering the first grade must be 6 on or before Sept. 15, and must present certificates of birth and proper immunization and vaccination.

Students who are 16 and desire work permits may apply for them at the county superintendent's office at the Courthouse in Lisbon.

School Unit Bond Issue Sale Planned

The Pennsylvania Public School Building Authority said at Harrisburg agreements have been signed for financing and constructing an addition to South Side High School near Hookstown and bids for the bond issue will be opened Sept. 19.

The authority said the leasing and architectural agreements for the addition were entered into between local school officials, B. J. McCandless, their architect, and the authority.

After public advertisement, competitive bids for the bonds will be opened Sept. 19.

The leasing agreement between the authority and the Board of Education provides for the financing and construction of the project by the State Authority and the leasing of the new facilities to the board for an annual rental calculated to repay the cost of the project over a term not to exceed 40 years.

The first payment of rental will be due in approximately two years and will be based upon the project cost as determined by construction bids received and the interest rate obtained by the authority on the sale of its Series F Bonds.

The architectural professional agreement between the State Authority, the Board of Education and the architect employed by the board covers the duties of the architect in designing the structure and, in addition, deals with reimbursement and financing of the architect's fee by the authority.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This is not a request for help but a plea to parents of small children to leave the little ones at home when they go shopping in the evening.

I'm sick of seeing toddlers pulled by the arms, scolded, slapped and spanked in department stores and supermarkets. It hurts me when I see a 5-year-old rubbing his eyes and whining — only because he is exhausted. And then the worn-out mother just about pulls his little arm out of the socket because he isn't "behaving properly."

I recently saw a mother who showed more compassion for her dog than for her 4-year-old son. When the dog cried she picked him up and petted him. When the boy pulled on her sleeve and whimpered, she gave him a crack on his head.

Please, Ann, tell these mothers that small children belong home in bed at night. I've told a few facts to face — but you could tell millions.—OBSERVER.

Dear Observer: I can add nothing to your sensible plea but my wholehearted endorsement.

Human Sponge

Dear Ann: My husband has been drinking from six to eight highballs every night for the past 15 years.

I've been working ever since we married. Last month I kept track of the money spent on liquor in this house (I don't drink and we seldom have company) and it amounts to my salary. I reasoned, then, that I could quit work if my husband would stop drinking.

The problem is, I want our two children to have a decent place to live, good clothes and a few extras. If I quit my job, something has to give and I know what it will be.

The doctor told me three years ago I should not be working downtown and running a house, too. I'm tired and half sick most of the time. I want to quit work and stay home but my husband claims drinking is no problem and he refuses to give it up. What can I do?—M.V.A.

Dear M.V.A.: Anyone who has been drinking from six to eight highballs every night for 15 years is an alcoholic whether he knows it or not. An alcoholic is sick but unless he is willing to admit it you can be sure he will make no effort to straighten himself around.

Here are your alternatives: (1) Tell your husband either to go to AA or get out, in which case you risk depriving your children of a father, (2) quit work and become accustomed to a lower standard of living, (3) continue to work so you can provide your children with the extras and so your husband can continue to fog himself up every night and anesthetize himself against reality.

The Golden Touch

Dear Ann: I'll be brief and to the point. My fiancé's aunt has lots of money. She always has pampered him with trips and gifts because she had no children of her own and Ted is her favorite nephew.

This aunt doesn't like me because I'm not a college girl and I don't have anything to brag about on the society page when our engagement is announced.

We've gone together three years and planned to marry in October. Now Ted tells me he needs time to think it over. He feels he owes his aunt "a lot" and that if he marries me he will break her heart and cut himself off from a nice inheritance.

How do I fight this?—HEART-SICK.

Dear Heartsick: With your hat, grab it and run. A three-year romance that can be strangled with a money belt wasn't very healthy to begin with.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

3 Recover Body

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) — Three men in a pleasure craft Wednesday recovered the body of Wandell White, 27, of Gypsum, who fell from his outboard motorboat in Sandusky Bay Sunday. The coroner ruled White's death accidental.

Lias 'Happy' On Decision

WHEELING (AP) — William G. (Big Bill) Lias said he is "happy over the decision" of the Justice Department not to appeal a court ruling forbidding his deportation.

The former Wheeling bootlegger and race track owner added, "What else can I say?"

A spokesman from the Justice Department told Wheeling officials Wednesday it would not contest the decision of Federal District Judge Alexander Holtzoff in Washington last June 29.

The date climaxed a four-day trial without a jury in which Judge Holtzoff said Lias through his attorneys had established that he was a native of Wheeling, W. Va., and not a native of Greece as the government contended. Lias was not present at the trial.

Lias's experience with deportation proceedings dates back to 1955. The U.S. Immigration Service ordered him deported and the order was upheld by the Immigration Board of Appeals. Last year, U.S. District Judge Joseph C. McGaraghy granted Lias what amounted to a new trial.

Walter Cope, commander, presided.

Fruehauf Plant Struck
As Pact Talks Collapse

DELPHOS, Ohio (AP)—A strike of about 270 workers began Wednesday at the Delphos plant of the Fruehauf Co. The stoppage came upon expiration of a three-year contract, and after negotiations that began several weeks ago collapsed.

The strikers, who belong to Allied Industrial Workers of America (AFL-CIO) Local 259, want retention of present benefits, cost-of-living adjustments and better treatment on seniority. Wages were not a cause of the walkout at the truck trailer component factory, union spokesmen said.

New Laws For Highways Include Construction Aid

Among the many laws affecting motorists passed during the recent Ohio General Assembly session are several which will concern programs for highway construction and traffic safety, reports the Columbiana County Motor Club.

The more significant measures, all supported by the local AAA club through its affiliation with the Ohio State Auto Association, state AAA organization, are discussed here.

Effective Jan. 1, local governments — cities, counties, townships — will share in the $15 million annually which has been added to other revenues available to them for improvement of streets and roads.

The additional funds will be derived through a reallocation of revenues now available to the Ohio Highway Department, which received $64 million more per year when the state gasoline tax was upped from 5 to 7 cents a gallon in 1959.

At that time, despite urging from Ohio AAA clubs that part of the new tax be apportioned for local use, the General Assembly allocated it to the state department.

It is noteworthy that while Ohio motorists are paying taxes totaling 11 cents per gallon of gasoline — 7 cents state, 4 cents federal — no new taxes or fees were passed by the assembly, although several efforts were made.

Two new laws were passed in an effort to stretch available highway dollars as far as possible.

The state law banning billboards on interstate highways was amended to bring it into conformity with federal regulations, thereby qualifying Ohio for a bonus estimated at more than $10 million based on the construction costs of interstate projects.

The other authorizes sale of bonds to private investors when funds are needed to purchase highway rights-of-way in advance of construction. This will permit buying of land before developers add costly improvements which would increase the cost of later acquisition.

Ohio areas bordering neighboring states will benefit by a new law which will permit the director of highways to contract with officials of the other state involved to build or improve bridges crossing streams. Existing law requires a special act of the General Assembly for such action, which results in delays of the project.

Installation of railroad crossing warning devices should receive more attention under a new law which apportions the cost of such devices between the railroad and the state or local government, according to benefits involved, as determined by the Public Utilities Commission. The railroads now must pay the entire cost of such devices.

Annual inspections of all school buses will be required under another new law. Previously, only public school buses were covered by compulsory inspections. The new measure affects private and parochial school buses, representing about 2,000 of Ohio's 10,000 school buses.

Patrol and surveillance of Ohio's highways will be increased with the authorization that the maximum strength of the Ohio Highway Patrol be hiked by 100 men in the next two years to a total of 800.

Next—Bills not passed by the Assembly which would have affected motorists.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Should Be Prepared For School

Wishing your child to be strong and well for beginning school next fall, you will have had him checked by your dentist and physician. He will have learned to enjoy proper food, have acquired regular bedtime habits, toilet training and conformity to other wholesome family routines and regulations.

Dr. Garry Meyers. Needless to say, he should have learned obedience and respect for the rights of others. You want him to be self-reliant physically and emotionally, doing for himself what he is able to do and being responsible for proper care of his own things. You want him to feel reasonably comfortable out of your sight and hearing, able to amuse himself for extended periods and to spend ample time at fun with other children of his age.

IT'S FORTUNATE if he has never spent much of his time viewing TV and no time exposed to programs of violence. It's also fine if he has been read to a great deal since the age of two or three; enjoyed inventing and creating with toys and words, drawing, coloring, pasting, painting, molding with clay and using simple tools.

The teacher in kindergarten or first grade can easily spot the child rich in such experiences, in contrast with those children poor in them.

Your child beginning school will need to learn to follow directions and often do things other children of his age are doing.

How well has he learned to carry out simple requests or commands at home? Has he learned to listen and do things along with several other children, as when playmates are in your home?

SOME CHILDREN, without such experiences at home, may feel lost and bewildered among so many children in a classroom.

If he is about to enter the first grade, it may be helpful to your child to have learned to count objects up to ten or 20; to identify some of the letters of the alphabet and the number symbols; even to be able to read some street and store signs and names of food containers.

It's also very helpful to him if he has gone with you to a farm, zoo, airport, bus and railroad station.

Best of all, for the child entering kindergarten and first grade, is to have had all his questions answered kindly and patiently by his parents, his curiosity stimulated, in addition to frequent happy family conversation.

A current book, "Tested Ways to Help Your Child Learn From Preschool to College", by Virginia Burgess Warren, Prentice-Hall, has a good chapter on this subject.

My bulletins, "Self - Reliance," "Educating Your Child in Responsibility" and "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School," may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Newell Legion Commander Appoints New Committees

Arthur DeLong, commander, named new committees for the year and five were accepted as new members when Newell American Legion Post 114 met Wednesday night in the post home.

Committees are: Edward Hupp, Laymond Nalley and Herbert Eddy, house; Donald DeLong, DeWayne Staley, Leroy Riddle and Orell Johnson, entertainment; Harry Lytton, George LaNeve and Dick Rayburn, auditing.

Elected to the executive committee were Eddy, Lytton and J. Carl Durham. The executive committee also includes the commander, Tony LaNeve, adjutant, George LaNeve and Gene Lytton.

Accepted as new members were George Salisbury, Robert Staats and Harry Nesselrode, all of East Liverpool, Kenneth Cline of Chester and Allen Cipollini of Wellsville.

Use of the post home was authorized for a Newell kindergarten class. Purchase of an ice machine for the grillroom also was approved.

Arrangements are being made for a membership record book. Named to revise the death benefits program were Harry Lytton, and Tony and George LaNeve.

They Want Peace Prosperity

President's Peace Corps Faces Test In Tanganyika

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — "To fight problems not people," President Kennedy's Peace Corps could hardly find a more suitable place than Tanganyika.

The country has all the difficulties which plague Africa—disease, backwardness, poverty, a shaky economy and a colonial background. Peace and prosperity is what Tanganyika wants.

There are more than 100 tribes in Tanganyika, their past studded with bloody combat. The survivors appreciate the advantages of peace.

With 500 miles of coastline on the Indian ocean, Tanganyika has in its long history attracted Arabs and Persians, Indians and Chinese. The warlike Masai tribesmen filtered in from the north, and some of southern Africa's aggressive Zulus settled here.

Asians, Africans, Arabs and Europeans live together in comparative calm while the winds of change sweep Africa. The 30 members of the Peace Corps due later this year will find their know-how more important than the color of their skins.

But they're likely to find physical conditions tough.

Tanganyika is a country about a tenth the size of the United States. Within a few miles of the capital, Dar es Salaam, with its modest luxuries, life can be wholly primitive among the Africans in mud or thatch huts.

Despite the efforts of missionaries, the witch doctor still is an important figure in the bush, and the majority of Africans are pagan. And to the clock-conditioned Westerner, their practice of ordering their lives by the position of the sun in the sky can be exasperating.

The country's greatest asset as it moves toward independence on Dec. 9 this year is not its diamond mines or its plantations, but a slender, onetime school teacher, Julius Nyerere, now prime minister.

Head of the only effective political organization in the country, the Tanganyika African National Union (TANU), Nyerere has led Tanganyika in the smoothest passage into independence experienced by any African territory.

It was Nyerere who decided the Peace Corps could help Tanganyika and the government backed him unanimously.

The Peace Corps mission to Tanganyika—first on the African continent—will include surveyors, engineers and geologists. They will make a survey for a feeder road system throughout the country. The roads will be designed to bring crops such as cotton, coffee and sisal to market and give African farmers a chance to exchange their labor for cash.

Malaria is prevalent throughout Tanganyika except above an altitude of 7,000 feet. The Peace Corpsmen will take preventive pills for two years.

The other serious threat to health is sleeping sickness. It is spread by the tsetse fly. Corpsmen working in the bush, where it breeds, will quickly learn to identify it and avoid it.

An effort is being made to eliminate the tsetse fly by clearing bush and spraying, but parts of five of the nine provinces are still danger spots.

Except for the famed Williamson Diamond Mine, now owned jointly by the Tanganyika government and De Beers Consolidated Mines Ltd., and some mining for gold and minerals, the country's economy is almost entirely agricultural.

But African farmers deep in the bush are thwarted by the absence of adequate feeder roads to get their crops to market. Heavy rains often wash out the primitive tracks which are their lifelines. It is to improve this situation that the Peace Corpsmen will apply their talents.

Under a three-year development plan, the government is expected to spend nearly $3 million to expand and improve feeder roads. The work of the Peace Corps will be a contribution to that program—surveying road links between small roads and main roads.

22 Set Displays To Be Shot Off At Rocco Festival

Twenty-two set pieces commemorating the Civil War Centennial will be included in the fireworks display Saturday night at Central Park in Wellsville to climax the festivities in honor of St. Rocco.

The Zambelli Fireworks Co. of New Castle will present the show, sponsored by the Wellsville Knights of Columbus Council 507.

The fireworks also will include a display of St. Rocco and the church in color. In addition, hundreds of multiple color and noise shells will be set off as a finale.

Concessions are open every night from 7:30 to 11 at Central Park.

In keeping with past practice, it was announced that anyone who may be in need of ambulance service to remove patients and invalids due to the fireworks are to contact John Kozora, LEnox 2-2306, before the display.

The festival will close Sunday with Solemn High Mass at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Wellsville. Fr. Gerald Curran will be the celebrant.

Joseph Giuliani is general chairman of festivities. Kozora is the council's grand knight.

Auto Mishap Fatal

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Robert A. Feder, 21, of Akron was killed early today in suburban Norton Village when an automobile went out of control and struck a pole at Barber and Summit Roads.

Many a farmer maintains seriously that corn grows faster at night.

Police Theorize Elderly Collector Knew His Killers

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Police theorize an elderly antique collector knew the persons who killed him and his dog in their home in nearby Reedurban Tuesday.

"We assume he knew the people because there was no evidence of forced entry," Chief Deputy Sheriff Leo Kelley said Wednesday.

The bodies of James E. Crawford, 68, and his 80-pound boxer were found Tuesday night. Crawford, shot twice with a .38-caliber pistol, had been dead for 36 hours, authorities said. The watchdog had been slugged with blackjacks and stabbed.

Police were puzzled because none of Crawford's antique collection of guns, coins and china seemed disturbed. They started an inventory to determine if anything was missing.

Police said robbery was the apparent motive for the slaying. Crawford was known to have kept sums of money in the house for quick purchases or sales. He was robbed 18 months ago.

Raiders Find Still

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Vice squad raiders broke into a house on Shreve Avenue in East Akron Wednesday and found a moon-shine operation but no operator. Seized were a 100-gallon still and 20 32-gallon barrels of working mash. Police began checking on ownership of the property and called in federal alcohol tax agents.

U.S. Clears Oral Polio Vaccine Against Type 1

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today announced clearance of oral polio vaccine for protection against one of the three types of polio.

A license has been granted to manufacture the easy-to-take live virus vaccine for type I polio.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry of the Public Health Service said: "I want to emphasize that an oral vaccine providing protection against all three types of poliomyelitis will not be available for some time. The vaccine being licensed today produces immunity only against type I polio."

"Therefore, it is of the highest importance that vaccinations continue with the Salk vaccine which is the only weapon we have today to provide protection against all three types of polio," he said.

"The Public Health Service will continue its efforts to promote the widest possible use of the Salk vaccine. When the full series of oral vaccine becomes available, we will also help in its promotion."

Terry said that of the three types of polio virus, type I has been responsible in recent years for between 60 and 70 per cent of all paralytic polio in this country.

He said he expects type II oral vaccine to be licensed in the near future, but that it will be several months at least before type III is cleared.

The Public Health Service chief said sampling of virus from paralytic cases this year suggests that type III may be increasing in relative importance as a cause of paralytic disease.

The type I license was issued to Pfizer Ltd., Sandwich, England. The vaccine will be marketed in the United States by Chas. Pfizer & Co. Inc. of New York.

The live oral polio vaccine was developed by Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati. The Salk vaccine, administered by injection, depends on killed virus. It was developed by Dr. Jonas Salk of Pittsburgh.

The first typewriter of which there is any record was patented in England in 1714.

Group Meets At Ohio View

"Void If Detached" was Mrs. David D. Rowe's topic when the Lutheran Women of the Ohio View Lutheran Church resumed monthly meetings Tuesday night in the Church Hall.

Mrs. William Stibilo, devotions chairman, read from Scripture and presented the meditation subject, "Gems to Ponder". She accompanied group singing of hymns.

Mrs. Homer Paul served as chairman in the absence of the president, Mrs. Paul Brucker, at the thank-offering meeting.

Mrs. John Madish accepted the free-will offering and Mrs. Eleanor Waggoner the thank-offering.

Mrs. Paul announced that the annual synodical convention of the West Conference will be held next Wednesday and Thursday at Thiel College in Greenville. The group agreed to send a Christmas gift to the synodical conference treasurer for missionaries as a Christian service project.

Members will consider a proposed adoption of a member or members of the Beaver County Home Annex anniversary greetings and a Christmas gift.

Mrs. Waggoner presented the thank-offering message and read a prayer.

Mrs. John Waddell Jr. and Mrs. Charles Moore were guests.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stibilo and Mrs. Rowe.

Mrs. Mary Porto of Industry is vacationing in Santa Rosa, Calif. She will return home in October.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Luster of Industry have returned following a two-week camping trip to Lake Superior and Geraldton, Ont., Canada.

250 Girl Scouts At Midland Event

About 250 Girl Scouts of the Midland District, which includes Midland, Midland Heights, Industry Borough and Ohio Township, attended the annual Field Day Wednesday. This was the first time the event was held in Midland.

The day began with swimming at the Veterans' Memorial Park followed with a picnic at the Crucible Park.

Mrs. George Mastrovich, district chairman, Mrs. William Black and Mrs. Richard Graham were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Mastrovich announced that leaders are beginning to reorganize the troops for the fall. The district meeting will be held in September when a new district chairman will be appointed.

Aliquippa Man Named By Knights Templar

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul M. Moore of Aliquippa, Pa. Wednesday was elected most eminent grand master of the Knights Templar of the U. S. A. for the next three years. He is head of a building supply firm.

Moore, a native of Muskingum County, Ohio, succeeds Louis H. Wieber, Cleveland attorney.

The 7,000 delegates attending the 48th triennial convocation of the Masonic fraternity elected as deputy grand master Wilbur M. Brucker, Detroit attorney and Secretary of the Army during the Eisenhower administration.

Tavern Operator's Hearing Continued

Hearing for Bennie Corbisello, operator of the Bolero Cafe on Main St., Wellsville, charged with selling intoxicating liquor to a 17-year-old Wellsville boy, was continued Wednesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin after the defense attorney, J. Warren Bettis, asked for a bill of particulars.

Judge Tobin then set Aug. 24 as deadline for the prosecutor's office to present the bill of particulars ready and Sept. 5 for the hearing. Bond of $1,000 was continued. He pleaded innocent earlier.

Injunction Hearing On Rink Is Postponed

A hearing scheduled at Lisbon Wednesday on a state building department petition for a temporary injunction against the K. B. Roller Rink at Cannons Mill was postponed at the request of counsel for both sides.

The Division of Factory and Building Inspection contended the building is a public nuisance because the owner, Kenneth Burt, failed to obtain a permit for an addition erected in July 1958.

It was indicated the owner is arranging to comply with the regulations.

Girl, 6, Hospitalized When Clothing Ignites

She suffered burns on her hands, arms, chest and stomach in the accident at Harrison Lake State Park near Fayette in Fulton County.

On Kennedy Aid Program

U.S. Prestige Perking Up At Uruguay Parley Table

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP)—The United States has gone a long way at the conference table here in Uruguay toward winning back prestige lost on the invasion beaches of Cuba.

It has done this by offering an entire hemisphere of 200 million people a dreamed-of opportunity for a better way of life.

It is called the Alliance for Progress, a 10-year, $20-billion aid program conceived by President Kennedy.

There is one big string attached: Latin America must do its part by breaking down age-old barriers against economic and social progress. It will not be easy.

Some observers at the Inter-American Economic Conference feel that the program, although off to a flying start, may drop to the ground with a sickening thud. They point to the obstacles — corrupt administrations, lethargy, greedy landowners unwilling to relinquish their favored position, and tax evaders.

But the urgency of the challenge was underlined for many by the presence of Cuba's pro-Communist economic czar, Ernesto Guevara.

Although he lost no opportunity to take a poke at the United States, Guevara charmed fellow Latin Americans, especially the powerful Brazilians, the Bolivians, the Ecuadoreans and even the Chileans.

His aim here was to demonstrate with a surprising display of warmth that Cuba wants to stay in the family of democratic Latin American nations, although Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime has cast its economic lot with the Communist system and the Communist bloc of nations.

It was a plea for coexistence, and Guevara assured the delegates the Castro regime is not exporting revolution. But he said his government "cannot promise that our example is not followed elsewhere" and that the first condition for economic improvement in Latin America is to put "political power in the hands of the working class."

It was a warning that was not lost on many of the delegates.

Atomic Plant Shuts Down For Refueling

The nuclear reactor at the Shippingport Atomic Power Station was shut down Wednesday for partial refueling, Duquesne Light Co. announced.

The nation's first large scale nuclear power plant has been in operation since December, 1957. It has supplied more than 820,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity to the Duquesne Light system.

The shutdown, necessary for the replacement of certain enriched uranium fuel elements, is expected to last two and a half months.
